Services and the Green Economy Andrew Jones, Patrik Ström, Brita Hermelin, Grete Rusten, 2016-05-04. Services and the Green Economy addresses a significant gap in the knowledge and understanding of sustainable economic development. Bringing together a range of expert contributions, the book analyses the role of services and service industries in the transition to a greener economy. Framed by an approach within environmental economic geography, chapters written by leading researchers from a range of disciplines explore how service industries, service firms, and service activities are at heart of green economic processes. Adopting a global perspective, it includes research from the US, Europe, South America, and Japan, providing a detailed insight into how the crucial role of service industry activity has often been ignored in current understandings of a green economic transition.

Key Concepts in Creative Industries John Hartley, Jason Potts, Stuart Cunningham, Terry Flew, Michael Keane, John Banks, 2012-10-04. This guide to the emerging language of creative industries is a valuable resource for researchers and students alike. Concise, extensively referenced, and accessible, this is an exceptionally useful reference work. Gauthi Sigthorsson, Greenwich University. There could be no better guides to the conceptual map of the creative industries than John Hartley and his colleagues, pioneers in the field. This book is a clear, comprehensive, and accessible tool kit of ideas, concepts, questions, and discussions which will be invaluable to students and practitioners alike. Key Concepts in Creative Industries is set to become the corner stone of an expanding and exciting field of study. Chris Barker, University of Wollongong. Creativity is an attribute of individual people but also a feature of organizations like firms, cultural institutions, and social networks. In the knowledge economy of today, creativity is of increasing value for developing emergent and advanced countries and for competing cities. This book is the first to present an organized study of the key concepts that underlie and motivate the field of creative industries. Written by a world-leading team of experts, it presents readers with compact accounts of the history of terms, the debates and tensions associated with their usage, and examples of how they apply to the creative industries around the world. Crisp and relevant, this is an invaluable text for students of the creative industries across a range of disciplines, especially media, communication, economics, sociology, creative and performing arts, and regional studies.

Social Science in Context Rickard Danell, Anna Larsson, Per Wisselgren, 2015-01-01. One of the very first books to explore the role of the social sciences in historical sociological and global perspectives it does so by analyzing the practical making and discursive aspects of social scientific disciplines including sociology economics psychology business and administration studies social gerontology gender studies educational science geography and political science It looks at them not only in their academic setting but also in extra academic contexts and in a broader global setting The volume includes 15 chapters written by an international and multidisciplinary group of scholars The overall aim of the book is to encourage a contextual and reflexive understanding of the complex and dynamic relationship between the social sciences and society of the past and in today s globalized world It is concerned with the bonds between the social sciences and society at large including themes such as gender and power science and politics academic boundaries and global power relations and postcolonial perspectives
