Representations of Art and Art Museums in Children's Picture Books Perry Nodelman, 2024-10-17 What happens when the assumptions and practices of museum curators and art educators intersect with the assumptions and practices of publishing for children This study explores how over three hundred children's picture books most of them published in the last three decades in English introduce children to art and art museums It considers how the books emerge from and relate to a range of theories and assumptions about childhood and childhood development children's literature and culture illustration visual art museology and art education As well as examining how these theories and assumptions influence what picture books teach young readers about visiting museums and about how to look at and think about art it examines which artists and artworks appear most often in picture books and offers a survey of different kinds of art related picture books ones that claim to be purely informational ones that make looking at art a game or a puzzle ones in which children visit art museums and many more Since the books all include reproductions of or allusions to museum artworks the study also considers the problems illustrators face in depicting museum artworks in illustrations in a different style Red Hat Renate Schukies, 1993 Distributed by Westview Press Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR The Girl I Wanted to Be Sarah Grace McCandless, 2006-06-02 As a lowly freshman named for The King Presley Moran walks high school

The Acquisition of Anaphora in Child Mandarin Ruya Li,2024-05-10 The Acquisition of Anaphora in Child Mandarin explores how Mandarin speaking children s interpretation of the reflexive ziji and their use of null arguments can be understood under the notions of locality and prominence This book investigates the interpretation of ziji and the use of null subjects and null objects by experimenting on Mandarin speaking children and adults using a range of experimental techniques such as the truth value judgment task the picture identification task and the story telling task The book provides evidence to show that reflexive binding and argument dropping are determined by the interplay between universal principles and language specific properties It shows that children at the age of 4 make an adult like distinction between the anaphoric and logophoric interpretations of ziji The former is subject to the locality condition manifested by the blocking effect on the long distance binding of ziji whereas the latter is free from the locality condition and closely related to the understanding of the false beliefs of others This book is an important contribution to language acquisition research and can serve as a valuable reference for graduate students and researchers in the field of language acquisition Chinese linguistics psycholinguistics and cognitive science
