

Glory Movie Questions

1. How does the attitude of Colonel Robert Gould Shaw toward African-Americans change and why?

Colonel Shaw's attitude toward African-Americans changes over the course of the movie. At first, he is a white supremacist who believes that African-Americans are inferior and should not be allowed to fight in the military. However, as he spends more time with the 54th Massachusetts, he begins to see their courage and sacrifice, and his attitude changes. He becomes more respectful and eventually treats them as equals.

2. What differences exist among the black soldiers who make up the 54th Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry? What does this tell you about the different experiences of blacks in 19th-century America? What about their regions of origin, former status (enslaved), and educational background?

The 54th Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry is a diverse group of men from different backgrounds. Some are former slaves, some are free men, and some are educated. This diversity reflects the different experiences of blacks in 19th-century America, from slavery to freedom.

3. What attitudes did white soldiers have about the 54th? Did these attitudes change and why?

At first, the white soldiers in the 54th look down on the black soldiers. They see them as inferior and are often disrespectful. However, as they see the black soldiers' bravery and sacrifice, their attitudes change. They begin to respect them more and see them as equals.

4. Were blacks treated equally to whites in the Union army? Explain.

No, blacks were not treated equally to whites in the Union army. They were often paid less than whites, and they were not allowed to hold the same positions as whites. However, their bravery and sacrifice helped to change public opinion and led to the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1866.

5. What is significant about Colonel Shaw's decision to refuse to surrender?

Colonel Shaw's decision to refuse to surrender is significant because it shows his commitment to the Union and his belief in the equality of all men. He knew that his men were outnumbered and outgunned, but he refused to give up.

6. Did that incident end as you expected? What feelings or thoughts come over you last night?

The incident ended as I expected. The 54th Massachusetts was defeated, but their bravery and sacrifice were recognized. I feel proud of the 54th and their role in the Civil War. I also feel sad that it took so long for African-Americans to be treated as equals.
