cases from the service user's perspective. It looks at different approaches to intervention such as the importance of assessment and the value of groupwork and also covers work with children and families before a death. Brief interventions with bereaved children will appeal to practitioners, educators and service providers managing scarce resources. The editors have more than twenty-five years' experience as practitioners within the field as service providers and educators. The book features chapters from distinguished contributors with backgrounds in healthcare, education, social work and the police alongside theoretical and practice-based chapters from workers in the field of bereavement care for children. Treating Trauma and Traumatic Grief in Children and Adolescents, Second Edition Judith A.
