Christian Mission and Economic Systems John Cheong, Eloise Meneses, 2015-02-16

Christian mission in the twenty first century has emphasized endeavors that address poverty alleviation business as mission marketplace ministry rural urban development microeconomics and Christian attitudes toward money and consumerism However neither the macroeconomic circumstances in which the church does such ministry nor the assumptions that believers have absorbed from the larger economy have been adequately explored Christian

Mission Economic Systems gathers scholars experts and practitioners to address the relationship of Christians to the economic systems in which they are embedded and do ministry and to evaluate the different cultural and religious dimensions of both micro and macroeconomic systems around the world from a kingdom perspective Practitioners doing business as mission will grow in their understanding of the significance of local economic practices Students and academics will benefit from the critical assessment of the intersection between micro and macroeconomic systems in the contexts of specific ethnographic circumstances Missionaries and churches will glean new insights on the difference that being a Christian makes to economic life NGOs nonprofits or other Christian organizations doing work related to markets will benefit from a challenge to their previous understandings Since work for the kingdom always takes place in some kind of an economic environment this book will equip Christians in a variety of capacities to be more effective in their ministries
