Civic Engagement and Social Media J. Uldam,A. Vestergaard,2015-05-19 The Occupy movement and the Arab Spring have brought global attention to the potential of social media for empowering otherwise marginalized groups This book addresses questions like what happens after the moment of protest and global visibility and whether social media can also help sustain civic engagement beyond protest      The Practice of Freedom Richard J. White, Simon Springer, Marcelo Lopes de Souza, 2016-09-29 The last two decades have seen a re birth of practices and principles that connect with the soul of left libertarianism although they may not explicitly engage with the anarchist tradition From practices of mapping and land use planning to local protests and transnational social movements this book explores a variety of case studies that trace the influences of and affinities between anarchist and geographic practice The chapters explore the vast possibilities of inventive exploratory libertarian practices from contemporary and historic contexts around the globe They examine the ways in which various spatial practices have been compatible with left libertarian principles and explore the extent to which anarchists neo anarchists and libertarian autonomists have animated these waves of protest and forms of resistance In an age that is desperately in need of critical new directions this volume shows that a serious re turn toward anarchist thought and practice can challenge and inspire geographers to travel beyond their traditional frontiers of geographical praxis      Critical Perspectives on Social Media and Protest Lina Dencik, Oliver Leistert, 2015-10-06 Commercial social media platforms have become integral to contemporary forms of protests They are intensely used by advocacy groups non governmental organisations social movements and other political actors who increasingly integrate social media platforms into broader practices of organizing and campaigning But aside from the many advantages of extensive mobilization opportunities at low cost what are the implications of social media corporations being involved in these grassroots movements This book takes a much needed critical approach to the relationship between social media and protest Highlighting key issues and concerns in contemporary forms of social media activism including questions of censorship surveillance individualism and temporality the book combines contributions from some of the most active scholars in the field today Advancing both conceptual and empirical work on social media and protest and with a range of different angles the book provides a fresh and challenging outlook on a very topical debate      A Transnational History of the Australian Animal Movement, 1970-2015 Gonzalo Villanueva, 2017-10-20 This book offers the first transnational historical study of the creation contention and consequences of the Australian animal movement Largely inspired by Peter Singer and his 1975 book Animal Liberation a new wave of animal activism emerged in Australia and across the world In an effort to draw public and media attention to the plight of animals such as the rearing of pigs and poultry in factory farms and the export of live animals to the Middle East and South East Asia Australian activists were often innovative and provocative in how they made their claims Through lobbying disruptive methods and vegan activism the animal movement consistently contested the politics and culture of how animals were used and exploited Australians not only observed and learnt from people and events overseas but also played significant international roles This book examines the complex and conflicting consequences of the animal movement for Australian politics as well as its influence on broader social change      Radical Democracy and Collective Movements Today Alexandros Kioupiolis, Giorgos Katsambekis, 2016-04-08 The Arab spring the Spanish indignados the Greek aganaktismenoi and the Occupy Wall Street movement all share a number of distinctive traits they made extensive use of social networking and were committed to the direct democratic participation of all as they co-ordinated and conducted their actions Leaderless and self-organized they were socially and ideologically heterogeneous dismissing fixed agendas or ideologies Still the assembled multitudes that animated these mobilizations often claimed to speak in the name of the people and they aspired to empowered forms of egalitarian self-government in common Similar features have marked collective resistances from the Zapatistas and the Seattle protests onwards giving rise to theoretical and practical debates over the importance of these ideological and political forms By engaging with the controversy between the autonomous biopolitical multitude of Hardt and Negri and the arguments in favour of the hegemony of the people advanced by J Rancière E Laclau C Mouffe and S Žižek the central aim of this book is to discuss these instances of collective mobilization to probe the innovative practices and ideas they have developed and to debate their potential to reinvigorate democracy whilst seeking something better than disaster capitalism

Wu Ming's Transmedia Activism Paolo Saporito, 2024-05-30 This book explores the activism of the Italian collective Wu Ming Engaging in a dynamic conversation with critical theory post-workerist philosophy and eco-criticism Saporito illuminates how Wu Ming's forms of protest radically challenge neoliberal models of subjectivity through a revived commitment to an eco-centric ethics The book charts how Wu Ming's interventions combining embodied literary and online activism aim to performatively create life rhythms practices and ultimately a political subjectivity alternative to fast-paced anthropocentric models imposed by neoliberal apparatuses In depth analyses of Wu Ming's participation in the 27th Genoa G8 Summit literary texts and online presence define the trajectory of their interventions which moved from a traumatic repudiation of neoliberal apparatuses in Genoa to a thorough exploration of how these apparatuses produce and control subjectivity Wu Ming's literary texts invite the reader to grasp the complexity of the human-non-human relations these apparatuses exploit while affirmatively exploring eco-centric ethical relations to the non-human other Wu Ming open their bodies to these relations via hikes walks and performances where they try out slow-paced life rhythms and experiment with the non-human affordances of multiple media Wu Ming's transmedia activism links these offline initiatives with online strategies that promote the collective creation of critical content slow down online users fast-paced experience and mobilise a network of human and non-human agents that re-energise embodied street actions

Common and Counter-Hegemonic Politics Kioupiolis Alexandros Kioupiolis, 2019-01-22 Alexandros Kioupiolis re-conceptualises the common in tandem with the political By engaging with key thinkers of community and the commons including Nancy Ostrom Hardt and Negri he harnesses the political thrust of a radical democratic politics of solidarity equality and collective self-organisation He calls into play post-structuralist conceptions of agonism and hegemony put forward by thinkers such as Mouffe and Laclau to remedy the failure of existing theories of the commons to address power relations and division

The Oxford Handbook of American Documentary Joshua Glick, Visiting Associate Professor of

Film & Electronic Arts Joshua Glick, Patricia Aufderheide, University Professor in the School of Communication Patricia Aufderheide, 2025 Joshua Glick and Patricia Aufderheide Over the past twenty years documentaries have taken on an increasingly central place in American public life One measure of their importance is their commercial value Major media companies have moved aggressively to monetize documentary exploiting the form's relatively low budgets compared to fiction

Reading Media Theory Brett Mills, David M. Barlow, 2014-06-11 What does the Frankfurt School have to say about the creative industries Does the spread of Google prove we now live in an information society How is Madonna an example of postmodernism How new is new media Does the power of Facebook mean we're all media makers now This groundbreaking volume part reader part textbook helps you to engage thoroughly with some of the major voices that have come to define the landscape of theory in media studies from the public sphere to postmodernism from mass communication theory to media effects from production to reception and beyond But much more than this by providing assistance and questions directly alongside the readings it crucially helps you develop the skills necessary to become a critical informed and analytical reader Each reading is supported on the facing page by author annotations which provide comments dissect the arguments explain key ideas and terminology make references to other relevant material and pose questions that emerge from the text Key features Opening chapters What is theory and What is reading bring alive the importance of both as key parts of media scholarship Pre reading substantial Introductory sections set each text and its author in context and show the relevance of the reading to contemporary culture Post reading Reflection sections summarise each reading's key points and suggests further areas to explore and think about 4 types of annotations help you engage with the reading context content structure and writing style as well as questions to provoke further thought Split into 4 sections Reading theory Key thinkers and schools Approaches and Media Theory in context New to the second edition New chapters on New Media and Audiences as Producers Reading Media Theory will assist you in developing close reading and analytic skills It will also increase your ability to outline key theories and debates assess different case studies critically link theoretical approaches to a particular historical context and to structure and present an argument As such it will be essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students of media studies cultural studies communication studies the sociology of the media popular culture and other related subjects
