Islamic Literature in Spanish and Aljamiado Gerard Albert Wieggers, 1994 This work is a study of Islam in medieval Christian Spain focussing on the Mudejar religious authority Yca Gidelli fl 1450 and his Islamic writings in Spanish On the basis of published and unpublished sources in Spanish and Arabic it sheds new light on the religious history of the Muslim minorities Muslims of Spain Emir Cruz Fernández, For every romantic retelling there is a much more complex reality If you have always been captivated by the Spanish Golden Age you may be familiar with Maurofilia literature a fictitious stylized and romantic portrayal of the Moorish people and culture written from a Catholic perspective Far less well known is Aljamiado literature another genre that sprang up during the Spanish Golden Age which pairs beautifully with Maurofilia literature and affords us a deeper understanding of what was happening at the time While Maurofilia literature romanticizes the experience of the Moors Aljamiado literature focuses on the much more difficult reality of the Moorish experience in an intolerant and restrictive Catholic society This gritty realism focused genre was vital to the Moorish community at the time It demonstrates their resilience as they fought to preserve their religious social and cultural identity in a predominantly Catholic society You now have a unique opportunity to see past the romanticized depiction of the Moorish people in Maurofilia literature and glimpse how those people viewed themselves Through his thorough and focused research Professor Emir Cruz Fernández will give you a panoramic view of the Muslim experience during the Spanish Golden Age Inside this fascinating and insightful work you will discover A background to Aljamiado studies so you have a complete understanding of how the texts emerged The key characteristics of Aljamiado literature and how it gives us a deeper insight into the reality of the time Significant insight is taken from scholars of Islam A fuller understanding of one of the most reproduced and widely read works by Spanish crypto Muslims of the 16th century The role of The Mi r j in Muslim tradition How Aljamiado literature shines a light on a broader picture of the human experience Insightful analysis and translation of significant parts of crucial texts in Aljamiado literature And much more There is always another layer And you are about to uncover a genuinely fascinating one Deepen your understanding of literature during the Golden Age of Spain Yça Gidelli (fl. 1450) His Antecedents and Successors Gerard Albert Wieggers, 1991 Islam in Spanish Literature Luce López Baralt, 1992 A sweeping reinterpretation of Spanish literature showing the great debts to Arab culture that Spain incurred through the 800 years of Islamic presence in Iberia By so doing it redefines the ground of the study of Spanish literature

Philosophy between the Islamicate and Latin American Traditions Anthony F. Shaker, Amílcar Aldama Cruz, 2025-11-18 Latin America is a diverse mosaic of cultures that trace their origins back to Indigenous African Spanish Portuguese and Islamic sources Its philosophies eloquently expressed by a long line of thinkers are found not just in departments of philosophy but also in its rich literature and art which are given treatment in this volume The Islamicate world is a unique fourteen century old cultural mosaic that covers much of the known world Despite its long civilizational experience it too faces the challenge of emancipation from foreign domination and the chaotic cacophony of monologues afflicting our time The papers collected here cover various aspects of the philosophies of these two constantly interacting traditions and how they impinge on an old problematic ghayriyya otherness and alienation Their themes include key figures like Ibn Arab Suhraward A mad b Mu afa al Alaw Rudolfo Kusch Jos Mart Spain s Moriscos and contemporary Argentine philosophers and expanding areas of research like the philosophy of the Nahua popularly known as the Aztec and the language reforms in T rkiye both of which provide excellent examples of cultural self alienation Festschrift Harald

Reading the Qur'an in Latin Christendom, 1140-1560 Thomas E. Burman, 2011-06-03 Selected by Choice magazine as an Outstanding Academic Title Most of what we know about attitudes toward Islam in the medieval and early modern West has been based on polemical treatises against Islam written by Christian scholars preoccupied with defending their own faith and attacking the doctrines of others Christian readings of the Qur'an have in consequence typically been depicted as tedious and one dimensional exercises in anti Islamic hostility In Reading the Qur'an in Latin Christendom 1140-1560 Thomas E Burman looks instead to a different set of sources the Latin translations of the Qur'an made by European scholars and the manuscripts and early printed books in which these translations circulated Using these largely unexplored materials Burman argues that the reading of the Qur'an in Western Europe was much more complex While their reading efforts were certainly often focused on attacking Islam scholars of the period turned out to be equally interested in a whole range of grammatical lexical and interpretive problems presented by the text Indeed these two approaches were interconnected attacking the Qur'an often required sophisticated explorations of difficult Arabic grammatical problems Furthermore while most readers explicitly denounced the Qur'an as a fraud translations of the book are sometimes inserted into the standard manuscript format of Christian Bibles and other prestigious Latin texts small centered blocks of text surrounded by commentary or in manuscripts embellished with beautiful decorated initials and elegant calligraphy for the pleasure of wealthy collectors Addressing Christian Muslim relations generally as well as the histories of reading and the book Burman offers a much fuller picture of how Europeans read the sacred text of Islam than we have previously had

Islamic Studies, 1997

European Muslims and the Qur'an Gulnaz Sibgatullina, Gerard Wiegers, 2023-12-18 This edited volume aims to advance a Muslim centered perspective on the study of Islam in Europe To do so it brings together a range of case studies that illustrate how European Muslims engaged with their Sacred Scripture while being part of a Christian dominated social and political space The research presented in this volume seeks to analyse Muslims practices of translating interpreting and using the Qur'an as a sacred object and thus pursues three main research agendas Part I focuses on the issues of Muslim Christian relations in Europe and studies how these relations have engendered discursive connections between Muslim and Christian produced texts related to the study and interpretation of the Qur'an Part II aims to bring scholarly attention to the under represented cases of Muslim communities in Europe This part introduces new research on Polish Belarusian Daghestani Bosnian and Kazan Tatars and examines local traditions of producing vernacular Qur'ans and commodification of Qur'anic manuscripts The final section of the volume Part III contributes to filling in the gaps related to the theoretical and conceptual framing of Muslim translation activities The history of religious thought and practice in European history is in many ways still uncharted territory This book aims to contribute to a better understanding of the cultural history of the Qur'an and Muslim agency in interpreting transmitting and translating the Sacred Scripture

The Handless Maiden Mary Elizabeth Perry, 2013-10-24 In 1502 a decade of increasing tension between Muslims and Christians in Spain culminated in a royal decree that Muslims in Castile wanting to remain had to convert to Christianity Mary Elizabeth Perry uses this event as the starting point for a remarkable exploration of how Moriscos converted Muslims and their descendants responded to their increasing disempowerment in sixteenth and early seventeenth century Spain Stepping beyond traditional histories that have emphasized armed conflict from the view of victors The Handless Maiden focuses on Morisco women Perry argues that these women's lives offer vital new insights on the experiences of Moriscos in general and on how the politics of religion both empowers and oppresses Drawing on archival documents legends and literature Perry shows that the Moriscos carried out active resistance to cultural oppression through everyday rituals and acts For example they taught their children Arabic language and Islamic prayers dietary practices and the observation of Islamic holy days Thus the home not the battlefield became the major forum for Morisco Christian interaction Moriscos experiences further reveal how the Morisco presence provided a vital counter identity for a centralizing state in early modern Spain For readers of the twenty first century The Handless Maiden raises urgent questions of how we choose to use difference and historical memory
