Islamic Art and Visual Culture D. Fairchild Ruggles, 2011-04-25 Islamic Art and Visual Culture is a collection of primary sources in translation accompanied by clear and concise introductory essays that provide unique insights into the aesthetic and cultural history of one of the world's major religions. Collects essential translations from sources as diverse as the Qur'an, court chronicles, technical treatises on calligraphy and painting, imperial memoirs and foreign travel accounts. Includes clear and concise introductory essays. Situates each text and explains the circumstances in which it was written, the date, place, author and political conditions. Provides a vivid window into Islamic visual culture and society. An indispensable tool for teachers and students of art and visual culture.

Islamic Arts and Crafts Marcus Milwright, 2017-02-03 Islamic art is justly famed for its technological sophistication, varied approaches to ornament and innovative employment of the written word. But what do we know about the skilled artisans who spent their lives designing and creating the paintings, objects and buildings that are so admired today? This anthology of written sources dating from the seventh to the twentieth centuries explores numerous aspects of the crafts of the Middle East, from the processing of raw materials to the manufacture of finished artefacts. You will learn about the legal and ethical dimensions of the arts and crafts, the organisation of labour in urban and rural contexts, the everyday lives of artisans, the gendered dimensions of making things and the impact of industrialisation upon traditional methods of manufacture. Each chapter begins with an introduction providing a wider context for the primary sources. There are also suggestions for further reading.

The Historiography of Persian Architecture Mohammad Gharipour, 2015-08-27 Historiography is the study of the methodology of writing history, the development of the discipline of history and the changing interpretations of historical events in the works of individual historians. Exploring the historiography of Persian art and architecture requires a closer look at a diverse range of sources, including chronicles, historical accounts, travelogues and material evidence coming from archaeological excavations. The Historiography of Persian Architecture highlights the political, cultural and intellectual contexts that lie behind the written history of Persian architecture in the twentieth century, presenting a series of investigations on issues related to historiography. This book addresses the challenges, complexities and contradictions regarding historical and geographical diversity of Persian architecture, including issues lacking in the 20th-century historiography of Iran and neighbouring countries. This book not only illustrates different trends in Persian architecture but also clarifies changing notions of research in this field. Aiming to introduce new tools of analysis, the book offers fresh insights into the discipline supported by historical documents, archaeological data, treatises and visual materials. It brings together well-established and emerging scholars from a broad range of academic spheres in order to question and challenge pre-existing historiographical frameworks, particularly through specific case studies. Overall, it provides a valuable contribution to the study of Persian architecture, simultaneously revisiting past literature and advancing new approaches. This book would be of interest to students and scholars of Middle

Perceptions of Sustainability in Heritage Studies Marie-Theres

Albert, 2015-07-01 With contributions Francesco Bandarin Minja Yang and Mechthild Rössler This publication is the fourth in the Heritage Studies series and aims to reflect upon the many dimensions of sustainability and sustainable development within the Heritage Studies discourse Sustainability as a concept and sustainable development as a goal are presented in official policies within UNESCO's understanding of heritage in its paradigmatic reflections and in the diversity of theories and methods including many different and sometimes conflicting understandings of sustainability within this discourse Thus the contributors to this publication discuss sustainability as it directly concerns the potential of different approaches to World Heritage and Intangible Heritage The inclusion of the four dimensions of sustainability environmental economic social and cultural into the Heritage Studies discourse opens a new perspective on the discourse itself Islamic Visual Culture, 1100-1800 Oleg Grabar, 2024-08-01

Islamic Visual Culture 1100 1800 is the second in a set of four volumes of studies on Islamic art by Oleg Grabar Between them they bring together more than eighty articles studies and essays work spanning half a century by a master of the field Each volume takes a particular section of the topic the three other volumes being entitled Early Islamic Art 650 1100 Islamic Art and Beyond and Jerusalem Reflecting the many incidents of a long academic life they illustrate one scholar's attempt at making order and sense of 1400 years of artistic growth They deal with architecture painting objects iconography theories of art aesthetics and ornament and they seek to integrate our knowledge of Islamic art with Islamic culture and history as well as with the global concerns of the History of Art In addition to the articles selected each volume contains an introduction which describes often in highly personal ways the context in which Grabar's scholarship developed and the people who directed and mentored his efforts The focus of the present volume is on the key centuries the eleventh through fourteenth during which the main directions of traditional Islamic art were created and developed and for which classical approaches of the History of Art were adopted Manuscript illustrations and the arts of objects dominate the selection of articles but there are also forays into later times like Mughal India and into definitions of area and period styles as with the Mamluks in Egypt and the Ottomans or into parallels between Islamic and Christian medieval arts Historical Dictionary of Islam Ludwig W. Adamec, 2016-12-14

Muslims believe that the Koran is God's message in Arabic revealed through the medium of the Prophet Muhammad for the guidance of the Arabs and subsequently for all humanity There is both unity and variety in the Islamic world Muslims are not a homogeneous people who can be explained solely by their normative texts the Koran and the Sunnah Muslims differ vastly in their interpretation of Islam modernists want to reinterpret Islam to adapt to the requirements of modern times while traditionalists tend to look to the classical and medieval periods of Islam as their model of the Islamic state This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Islam contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on major sects schools of theology and jurisprudence as well as aspects of Islamic culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Islam

The Empires of the Near East and India Hani Khafipour, 2019-05-14 In the early modern world the Safavid Ottoman and Mughal empires sprawled across a vast swath of the earth stretching from the Himalayas to the Indian Ocean to the Mediterranean Sea The diverse and overlapping literate communities that flourished in these three empires left a lasting legacy on the political religious and cultural landscape of the Near East and India This volume is a comprehensive sourcebook of newly translated texts that shed light on the intertwined histories and cultures of these communities presenting a wide range of source material spanning literature philosophy religion politics mysticism and visual art in thematically organized chapters Scholarly essays by leading researchers provide historical context for closer analyses of a lesser known era and a framework for further research and debate The volume aims to provide a new model for the study and teaching of the region's early modern history that stands in contrast to the prevailing trend of examining this interconnected past in isolation

Islamic Visual Culture, 1100-1800 Oleg Grabar, 2006 Islamic Visual Culture 1100 1800 is the second in a set of four selections of studies by Oleg Grabar Its focus is on the key centuries the eleventh through fourteenth during which the main directions of traditional Islamic art were created and developed and for which classical approaches of the History of Art were adopted Manuscript illustrations and the arts of objects dominate the selection of articles but there are also forays into later times like Mughal India and into definitions of area and period styles as with the Mamluks in Egypt and the Ottomans or into parallels between Islamic and Christian medieval arts

Printing Arab Modernity Hala Auji, 2016-05-30 During the nineteenth century the American Mission Press in Beirut printed religious and secular publications written by foreign missionaries and Syrian scholars such as N f al Y zij and Bu rus al Bust n of later nah a fame In a region where presses were still not prevalent letterpress printed and lithographed works circulated within a larger network that was dominated by manuscript production In this book Hala Auji analyzes the American Press publications as important visual and material objects that provide unique insights into an era of changing societal concerns and shifting intellectual attitudes of Syria's Muslim and Christian populations Contending that printed books are worthy of close visual scrutiny this study highlights an important place for print culture during a time of an emerging Arab modernity

Islam in World History Susan L. Douglass, Tom Facchine, 2025-11-18 Islam in World History examines the emergence and development of Islam as a world religion in the Abrahamic tradition and the unfolding of Muslim society and civilization over fourteen centuries In contrast to the usual recital of the rise of Islam as a new religion this book looks at the religious geographic and civilizational context in which Islam emerged and became a religiously ethnically and culturally diverse society deeply connected with hemispheric networks and exchanges in Afro Eurasia and ultimately a global religious community The book addresses the development of institutions and social structures that came to characterize Muslim societies over the long term with emphasis on their diverse expressions in various regions The chronological approach which analyzes the political history of Muslim society allows for deeper understanding of how Islamic civilization continued to develop and spread despite the fragmentation of the unitary state and its mixed record of adherence to Islamic ideals By addressing common questions and misperceptions over the long run of Islamic history to the present day this book is the perfect resource for all students who study religion and the history of Islam across the world Early Islamic North Africa Corisande Fenwick, 2020-05-14 This volume proposes a new approach to the Arab conquests and the spread of Islam in North Africa In recent years those studying the Islamic world have shown that the coming of Islam was not marked by devastation or decline but rather by considerable cultural and economic continuity In North Africa with continuity came significant change Corisande Fenwick argues that the establishment of Muslim rule also coincided with a phase of intense urbanization the appearance of new architectural forms mosques housing hammams the spread of Muslim social and cultural practices the introduction of new crops and manufacturing techniques and the establishment of new trading links with sub Saharan Africa Europe and the Middle East This concise and accessible book offers the first assessment of the archaeology of early Islamic North Africa 7th 9th centuries drawing on a wide range of new evidence from Morocco Algeria Tunisia and Libya It lays out current debates about its interpretation and suggests new ways of thinking about this crucial period in world history Essential reading for those interested in understanding the impact of the Arab conquests and the spread of Islam on daily life it will also challenge students of archaeology and history to think in new ways about North Africa the earliest Islamic empires and states and the transition from the Roman to the medieval Mediterranean Islamic Visual Culture, 1100-1800 Oleg Grabar, 2024-08-01 Islamic Visual Culture 1100 1800 is the second in a set of four volumes of studies on Islamic art by Oleg Grabar Between them they bring together more than eighty articles studies and essays work spanning half a century by a master of the field Each volume takes a particular section of the topic the three other volumes being entitled Early Islamic Art 650 1100 Islamic Art and Beyond and Jerusalem Reflecting the many incidents of a long academic life they illustrate one scholar's attempt at making order and sense of 1400 years of artistic growth They deal with architecture painting objects iconography theories of art aesthetics and ornament and they seek to integrate our knowledge of Islamic art with Islamic culture and history as well as with the global concerns of the History of Art In addition to the articles selected each volume contains an introduction which describes often in highly personal ways the context in which Grabar's scholarship developed and the people who directed and mentored his efforts The focus of the present volume is on the key centuries the eleventh through fourteenth during which the main directions of traditional Islamic art were created and developed and for which classical approaches of the History of Art were adopted Manuscript illustrations and the arts of objects dominate the selection of articles but there are also forays into later times like Mughal India and into definitions of area and period styles as with the Mamluks in Egypt and the Ottomans or into parallels between Islamic and Christian medieval arts Christian-Muslim Relations.
