Literary Apologetics Thomas L. Martin, 2025-08-18 Literature's probative force travels across the realm of sense in this world to what lies beyond it. When we speak of what is beyond our grasp in this world, we think most immediately of the world of the spirit. Shakespeare famously celebrates literature's power to explore the forms of things unknown. How many great works of literature guide us through a familiar world to the edge of the spiritual unknown. Not only Shakespeare but Dante, Milton, Dostoevsky, Hopkins, Eliot, O'Connor, and many others in these pages carry us there. This book follows their quest. Literary apologetics is the study of the characteristic moves by the authors who take readers on their journey of faith with them. Most notably, that tradition begins with Latin authors, spreads across Europe in a continuous literary culture, and extends over world literature to the present day. While early apologetics is proclamation, rhetoric, philosophy, and poetry above all, it is witness to the faith manifesting itself in time. The early faith community produces a distinct literary culture as Christian witness takes all these forms and more. From then until now, this kind of literature probes ultimate questions, adumbrates numinous experience, and extrapolates ethical outcomes of Christian teachings across a wide variety of literary forms. The Handbook of Literary Apologetics provides an authoritative introduction to the scope of this tradition and its major figures.

The Last Conceptual Revolution Eric Gander, 1999-01-01 A critique of Rorty's own provocative political philosophy as well as an in-depth look at both the issues concerning the relationship between the public and the private and arguments on the role of reason in liberal political discourse generally.

After This Life Benedict Groeschel, 2009-11-05 Father Benedict Groeschel, EWTN host, best-selling author, psychology professor, and internationally known retreat director, can lead readers in ways they never considered possible. Recognizing that anxiety and fear are the most common personal problems brought to him during nearly forty years of psychological counseling, Father Benedict Groeschel knows first-hand that most people prefer to avoid the issue of mortality entirely. Himself the victim of a hit-and-run accident in 2004, after which he had no vital signs for thirty minutes, Groeschel masterfully explains how consoling and uplifting the truths surrounding death, judgment, Hell, purgatory, and Heaven really are. Learn to live each new day with confidence based on the mercy and love of Our Savior, Jesus Christ, who spoke often of death and the last judgment through his parables.

The Novel, Who Needs It? Joseph Epstein, 2023-07-18 In this brief but highly engaging book, Joseph Epstein argues for the primacy of fiction and specifically of the novel among all intellectual endeavors that seek to describe the behavior of human beings. Reading superior fiction, he holds, arouses the mind in a way that nothing else quite does. He shows how the novel at its best operates above the level of ideas in favor of taking up the truths of the heart. No other form probes so deeply into that eternal mystery of mysteries, human nature, than does the novel. Along the way, Epstein recounts how we read fiction differently than much else we read. He sets out how memory works differently in the reading of fiction than in that of other works. He notes that certain novels are best read at certain ages and suggests that novels like movies might do well to carry ratings, with some novels best read no later than one's early twenties, others not to be read before the age of forty. The knowledge one acquires from reading novels differs from all other kinds of knowledge for the subject of all superior fiction is human existence itself in all its variousness and often humbling confusion The spirit of the novel entails questioning much that others consider home truths This is demonstrated by the fact that so many important philosophers social scientists jurists and other intellectuals have been devoted readers of fiction among them Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr Michael Oakeshott Edward Shils and Clifford Geertz The Novel Who Needs It takes up those current elements in the culture that militate against the production of first rate fiction Prominent among them are the rise of online reading the expansion of creative writing programs the artistically discouraging effects of political correctness and the pervasiveness of therapeutic thinking throughout contemporary culture As for the title The Novel Who Needs It Joseph Epstein s answer is that we all do
