

An aerial photograph of an archaeological excavation of an ancient Greek bathhouse. The central feature is a large, circular stone basin, likely a hot spring or a large bath, surrounded by a low stone wall. To the left of this central basin is a smaller, rectangular stone structure, possibly a cold bath or a changing room. The ground is uneven and covered with dirt and some debris. The overall scene is a well-preserved archaeological site.

Public Baths and Bathing Habits in Late Antiquity Sadi Maréchal, 2020-01-20 In this book Sadi Maréchal examines the survival transformation and eventual decline of Roman public baths and bathing habits in Italy North Africa and Palestine during Late Antiquity Through the analysis of archaeological remains ancient literature inscriptions and papyri the continued importance of bathhouses as social hubs within the urban fabric is demonstrated thus radically altering common misconceptions of their decline through the rise of Christianity and elite seclusion Persistent ideas about health and hygiene as well as perpetuating ideas of civic self esteem drove people to build restore and praise these focal points of daily life when other classical buildings were left to crumble

Approaching the Ancient Artifact Amalia Avramidou, Denise Demetriou, 2014-08-25 This volume consists of forty contributions written by an internationally renowned selection of scholars The authors adopt an interdisciplinary methodology examining both literary and archaeological sources and a comparative perspective that transgresses national chronological and cultural boundaries in order to investigate the nature of the links between text and image This multifaceted approach to the study of ancient artifacts enables the authors to treat art and artistic production as activities that do not merely mirror social or cultural relationships but rather and more significantly as activities that create social and cultural relationships The essays in this book are motivated by their authors belief that there is no simple direct link between art and myths art and text or art and ritual and that art should not be delegated to the role of a by product of a literate culture Instead the contextual and symbolic analyses of artifacts and representations offered in this volume elucidate how art actively shaped myth how it changed texts how it transformed ritual and how it altered the course of local regional and Mediterranean histories

The Hammam through Time and Space Julie Peteet, 2024-05-15 Julie Peteet offers a fascinating tour through the rich cultural history of hammams or baths in the Mediterranean and Middle East These sacred structures date back to the Bronze and Iron Ages and have evolved through the Hellenistic Roman Byzantine and Islamic periods In this original work Peteet provides the first comprehensive examination of hammams through their architecture labor pool clientele meanings notions of the body and hygiene and economy Exploring the hammam as both a tangible architectural structure and an intangible social practice Peteet sheds light on how the bath has functioned as a central hub of religious ceremonies and a space that transcends any specific religious affiliation Although hammams have experienced a decline due to modernization new domestic technologies and rejection of the Ottoman Islamic past their current reinvigorated form illuminates neoliberal conceptions of heritage and leisure industries Hammams have become spaces for cleansing and fashioning a gendered and aesthetically appropriate body as defined by a global wellness syndrome Peteet's captivating narrative traces the hammam's historical significance and contemporary role as both a sacred and profane cultural phenomenon

Cosa and the Colonial Landscape of Republican Italy (Third and Second Centuries BCE) Andrea De Giorgi, 2019-11-20 This important new volume examines archaeological evidence of Roman colonization of the Middle Republican period Themes of land use ethnic accommodation and displacement colonial identity and administrative schemes are also highlighted In delving deeply into the uniqueness of select colonial contexts these essays invite a novel discussion on the phenomenon of colonialism in the political landscape of Rome s early expansion Roman urbanism of the Middle Republican period brought to the Italian peninsula fundamental changes an important example of which highlighted by a wealth of studies is the ebullience of a dense network of colonies as well as a mix of senatorial tactics and individual initiatives that underpinned their foundation Whether Latin Roman or Maritimae colonies created a new mesh of communities and imposed a new topography more subtly they signified the mechanisms of the rising hegemony This book brings to the fore the diversity agendas and overall impact of a settlement device that changed the Italian landscape and introduced a new idea of Roman town

Times of Transition Sylvie Honigman,Christophe Nihan,Oded Lipschits,2021-03-15 This multidisciplinary study takes a fresh look at Judean history and biblical literature in the late fourth and third centuries BCE In a major reappraisal of this era the contributions to this volume depict it as one in which critical changes took place Until recently the period from Alexander s conquest in 332 BCE to the early years of Seleucid domination following Antiochus III s conquest in 198 BCE was reputed to be poorly documented in material evidence and textual production buttressing the view that the era from late Persian to Hasmonean times was one of seamless continuity Biblical scholars believed that no literary activity belonged to the Hellenistic age and archaeologists were unable to refine their understanding because of a lack of secure chronological markers However recent studies are revealing this period as one of major social changes and intense literary activity Historians have shed new light on the nature of the Hellenistic empires and the relationship between the central power and local entities in ancient imperial settings and the redating of several biblical texts to the third century BCE challenges the traditional periodization of Judean history Bringing together Hellenistic history the archaeology of Judea and biblical studies this volume appraises the early Hellenistic period anew as a time of great transition and change and situates Judea within its broader regional and transregional imperial contexts

A Jew in the Roman Bathhouse Yaron Eliav, 2025-08-05 A provocative account of Jewish encounters with the public baths of ancient Rome Public bathhouses embodied the Roman way of life from food and fashion to sculpture and sports The most popular institution of the ancient Mediterranean world the baths drew people of all backgrounds They were places suffused with nudity sex and magic A Jew in the Roman Bathhouse reveals how Jews navigated this space with ease and confidence engaging with Roman bath culture rather than avoiding it In this landmark interdisciplinary work of cultural history Yaron Eliav uses the Roman bathhouse as a social laboratory to reexamine how Jews interacted with Graeco Roman culture He reconstructs their thoughts feelings and beliefs about the baths and the activities that took place there documenting their pleasures as well as their anxieties and concerns Archaeologists have excavated hundreds of bathhouse facilities across the Mediterranean Graeco Roman writers mention the bathhouse frequently and rabbinic literature contains hundreds of references to the baths Eliav draws on the archaeological and literary record to offer fresh perspectives on the Jews of antiquity developing a new model for the ways smaller and often weaker groups interact with large dominant cultures A compelling and richly evocative work of scholarship A Jew in the Roman Bathhouse challenges us to rethink the relationship between Judaism and Graeco Roman society shedding new light on how cross cultural engagement shaped Western civilization Nikephoros - Zeitschrift für Sport und Kultur im Altertum Paul Christesen, Wolfgang Decker, James G.
