University English for Academic Purposes in China Xiaofei Rao,2018-07-07 This book uses an in depth phenomenological interview approach to explain the generational characteristics of today s Chinese university youths and the critical dispositions they believe indispensable in acquiring English as an academic language in and outside school settings By presenting the authentic voices of the recruited participants the book clarifies how English for academic purposes EAP as an emerging global phenomenon and a research informed practice enables and empowers them for conscious self transformation and critical awareness development through language study The book also explores issues arising in the fields of general English language teaching as well as traditional and critical EAP and discusses university English language learners learning needs and rights The book further promotes a dynamic and transformative University EAP pedagogy of particularity practicality and possibility moving from the oppression of language education to its liberation and the increasing critical consciousness among the present and future university youths in a time of great social changes Lessons from Estonia's Education Success Story Peeter Mehisto, Maie Kitsing,2022-07-19 This book explores how Estonia despite high levels of poverty has transformed its education system to become Europe's top performer on PISA Programme for International Student Assessment. The engaging narrative uncovers reforms, mistakes and lessons learnt that have been harnessed to create a high performing, high equity education system which includes social and education policies fostering equity, inclusion, learner autonomy as well as schoolteacher and principal professionalism, autonomy and responsibility. It unearths how easy access to a wide range of data such as perceptions of well-being, autonomy and connectedness in addition to examination results builds internal and external accountability and contributes to collective stakeholder efficacy. Grounded in research from Estonia and beyond, this is an ideal read for educators, administrators, academics, university students, change agents and parents interested in school system improvement. As equity, equality and inclusion are core drivers of the Estonian education system, this book would also be of interest to those working in social justice, inclusion and diversity.

Developing Standards in Research on Science Education Fischer Hans E, 2005-07-14. Ph.D. students from 14 European countries, Israel, Turkey and Venezuela in addition to supervisors and lecturers from 11 countries including Israel and USA worked for one week to understand each other with the goal of improving and sharpening features of their respective theoretical backgrounds, research questions and design and methodological demands. The projects presented reflect a multitude of topics and goals of research in science education in Europe as well as the variety and elaboration of theoretical frameworks used and a remarkable level of methodological expertise. The following topics are included: Teachers' thinking and beliefs and teachers' actions in the classroom; the interaction between specific programs of science museums and teachers and classes; plans for engagement with them; teaching, learning and understanding of new subject matter for science classes; different interaction processes in the classroom; discourse analysis; decision-making processes in science classes and the use of models in chemistry lessons; and last but not least, specific characters and the function of text when learning physics by means of computer-based multimedia. All science subjects including earth science are involved in these articles and the level of analysis is deep.

Nurturing Minds: An Integrated Journey Through Child Development and Educational Psychology 2025

1. Dr. Savita Saloman 2. Dr. Divya Sharma 3. Dr. Jaya Singh 4. Dr. Gopa Sharma, PREFACE Children do not enter school as blank slates or single types. They arrive as whole persons, growing bodies, reasoning minds, shifting emotions, emerging values and living cultures. Nurturing Minds: An Integrated Journey Through Child Development and Educational Psychology was written to honor that wholeness and to give teachers a coherent practice-ready map for cultivating it in real classrooms. This book responds to two persistent needs. First, educators seek clear guidance on what develops when, from infancy through adolescence, and how growth across biological, cognitive, socio-emotional, language and moral domains interrelates. Second, they want bridgework: concrete routines, tools and lesson structures that translate theory into everyday teaching. We integrate global research with India's rich intellectual heritage.
