Marking Matric Vijay Reddy, 2006 The past ten years in South Africa has seen many changes in education the creation of a single department of education common examinations for all learners in public schools in the country a new outcomes based education curriculum which was introduced to learners in the general education and training phase since 1998 and will be introduced to the further education and training phase from 2006 To evaluate the success of these changes South African researchers still use the indicator of student achievement The matriculation examination is the visible high profile and public performance indicator Every year parents learners teachers researchers government officials policymakers and the general public get involved in the debate around the matric examination with the most frequently asked questions being Did the pass rate go up Are standards dropping Are the results real or have they been manipulated How is our education system doing Are we meeting the development goals What should the matriculation examination of the future look like participants from government national and provincial      Unbelievable! Myan Subrayan, 2014-04-02 At the 2012 Olympics Chad le Clos a twenty year old from Durban astounded the world by achieving the unbelievable he beat Michael Phelps his childhood hero and the world's number one swimmer in the 200 metres butterfly final This book tells all about the making of a swimming sensation in the words of the golden boy himself his family and those who have stood by him from the start It is an encouraging account of realising the ultimate goal not through chance but with the resolute support of family and friends and Chad's own relentless dedication to his sport Taking its title from his dad Bert le Clos famous exclamation on BBC TV when his son defeated Phelps this book follows Chad's rise to Olympic stardom An inspirational story for all wishing to achieve beyond what may seem possible      South African national bibliography, 1999 Classified list with author and title index      Research for Educational Change Jill Adler, Anna Sfard, 2016-06-17 Research for Educational Change presents ways in which educational research can fulfil its commitments to educational practice Focussing its discussion within the context of mathematics education it argues that while research generated insights can have beneficial effects on learning and teaching the question of how these effects are to be generated and sustained is far from evident The question of how to turn research into educational improvement is discussed here in the context of learning and teaching hindered by poverty and social injustice In the first part of the book four teams of researchers use different methodologies while analysing the same corpus of data collected in a South African mathematics classroom In the second part each of these teams makes a specific proposal about what can be done and how so that its research generated insights have a tangible beneficial impact on what is happening in mathematical classrooms Combining two discourses that of researchers speaking to one another and that of researchers communicating their insights to those responsible for educational practice the book deals with the perennial question of communication between those who study educational processes and those who are directly responsible for teacher education educational research and classroom practices This book will be key reading for postgraduates researchers and academics in education and particularly in the areas of mathematics education education research teacher education and classroom practice It will also appeal to teacher educators practitioners and undergraduate students interested in educational research     The Goat World ,1929     Resources in Education ,2000-10     South Africa Survey ,2008
