This is a list of some things you'll want to be able to do for the Science PAT. This is not a complete list of everything that will be on the exam.

Unit A: Biological Diversity

Students must be able to:

- Recall all their definitions
- Identify and describe variations among and within species
- Describe aspects of a species' niche
- Explain how an organism is adapted to life in its ecosystem
- Provide examples of symbiotic relationships
- Explain how one species' survival is linked to other species
- Clarify given symbiotic relationships as mutualism, commensalism, or parasitism
- Explain how species variation helps with species survival
- Distinguish between sexual and asexual reproduction
- Describe mechanisms of asexual production such as binary fission, budding, and spore production
- Describe mechanisms of sexual production
- Give examples of organisms that show both sexual and asexual production
- Describe the formation of a zygote and embryo in plant and animal production
- List examples of variation of characteristics within a species, including both discrete and continuous variation
- Identify examples of transmitted characteristics to offspring that are the same as one or both parents, intermediate between parents, or different from both parents
- Differentiate between heritable and non-heritable characteristics
- Identify examples of dominant vs recessive characteristics
- Generally explain the role and relationship of chromosomes, genes, and DNA
- Identify differences in mitosis vs meiosis
- List advantages and disadvantages of sexual and asexual production
- Explain the difference between natural and artificial selection
- Simply describe a few genetic technologies
- Describe the relative amounts of different species types on Earth and in different environmental regions
- Explain how environmental factors and changes can result in changing biodiversity, extinction, and extirpation
- Evaluate how successful specific local or global strategies are at minimizing loss of species diversity
- Analyze the use of biotechnology in environmental, agricultural, or forest management for potential impacts and issues
- Analyze graphs related to population abundance and change over time

Unit B: Matter and Chemical Change

Students must be able to:

- Recall all their definitions
- Investigate and describe physical and chemical properties of materials (melting and boiling point, solubility, conductivity, hardness, lustre, etc.)
- Clarify a given material as: pure substance, solution, mechanical mixture, metal, or non-metal
- Evaluate a change in material properties to decide if a chemical reaction (chemical change) has taken place

Science Education in Canada Christine D. Tippet, Todd M. Milford, 2019-07-01 This book offers a meso level description of demographics science education and science teacher education Representing all 13 Canadian jurisdictions the book provides local insights that serve as the basis for exploring the Canadian system as a whole and function as a common starting point from which to identify causal relationships that may be associated with Canada's successes The book highlights commonalities consistencies and distinctions across the provinces and territories in a thematic analysis of the 13 jurisdiction specific chapters Although the analysis indicates a network of policy and practice issues warranting further consideration the diverse nature of Canadian science education makes simple identification of causal relationships elusive Canada has a reputation for strong science achievement However there is currently limited literature on science education in Canada at the general level or in specific areas such as Canadian science curriculum or science teacher education This book fills that gap by presenting a thorough description of science education at the provincial territorial level as well as a more holistic description of pressing issues for Canadian science education     Resources in Education ,2001-10     Course and
