Loss Trauma And Resilience Therapeutic Work With Ambiguous Loss:

Loss Trauma and Resilience Pauline Boss, 2006 Whether it is a parent in the grip of Alzheimer's or a spouse missing in a disastrous event we are all touched by ambiguous loss. This work guides therapists with concepts and practices in the task of building resilience in clients who face the trauma of loss without resolution. The Myth of Closure Pauline Boss, 2021-12-14 How do we begin to cope with loss that cannot be resolved? The COVID-19 pandemic has left many of us haunted by feelings of anxiety, despair, and even anger. In this book, pioneering therapist Pauline Boss identifies these vague feelings of distress as caused by ambiguous loss: losses that remain unclear and hard to pin down and thus have no closure. Collectively, the world is grieving as the pandemic continues to change our everyday lives. With a loss of trust in the world as a safe place, a loss of certainty about health care, education, employment, lingering anxieties plague many of us even as parts of the world are opening back up again. Yet after so much loss, our search must be for a sense of meaning and not something as elusive and impossible as closure. This book provides many strategies for coping, encouraging us to increase our tolerance of ambiguity and acknowledging our resilience as we express a normal grief and still look to the future with hope and possibility. Creative Interventions in Grief and Loss Therapy Thelma Duffey, 2015-07-22 Get the tools to help the grief that comes when a dream dies. Every person at one time or another suffers when his or her dreams are shattered. Creative Interventions in Grief and Loss Therapy: When the Music Stops, a Dream Dies provides truly innovative approaches to therapeutically help individuals work through and survive grief and loss. Leading experts explore creative interventions for common yet emotionally devastating problems faced by those weathering the storms of grief after their dream has been destroyed. Therapists and counselors get the effective tools to creatively help people through the difficulties of dealing with death, addiction, trauma, changes in life circumstances, divorce, heartbreak, miscarriage, co-occurring mental health and substance use disorder, COD, suicide, adoption, and issues with children. The chapters in this innovative volume cite existing research on specific grief and loss issues and illustrate a clinical application for each situation using various creative mediums such as music, writing, or ritual. Each approach can be expanded and modified with care by clinicians of all types to better help clients through the process. This resource is extensively referenced. Topics in Creative Interventions in Grief and Loss Therapy include how storytelling, journaling, and correspondence can be used to process the experience of a counselor's loss following the death of their client; using psychodrama and the utilization of empty chair techniques to address addiction-related grief and loss; the use of rituals as an intervention to help clients with trauma and loss during times of natural disasters; the process of gatekeeping by counselor educators; Emotional Freedom Technique (EFT) as an approach to help student athletes deal with life after the sport; a literary exercise to help clients work toward forgiveness after divorce using books, songs, and projects to assist clients experiencing grief after the death of their adolescent child; creative strategies to aid clients through the grief and loss of love; effective interventions to assist clients through loss from miscarriage using music videography.

while addressing traditional issues e.g. identity development and recently emergent ones e.g. social media. It contains four main sections: 1. adolescence and families in contexts with rapidly shifting societal norms; 2. adolescence and families in the context of socio-political crisis and upheaval; 3. adolescence and families in the context of individual stress and strain; and 4. adolescent identity development in the family and in transition to adulthood. Contributors to this volume are leading scholars from a range of disciplines e.g. anthropology, psychology, family science, and thus explore adolescence from multiple perspectives. Cross-cutting themes include how the broader socio-ecological background and ecocultural niche shape various dimensions of adolescence; how the role of the family is redefined in these various contexts and circumstances; and how adolescent resilience and family strengths are formed across a broad range of settings. Throughout this volume highlights the continued centrality of family in the development and well-being of adolescents across the globe. This is an essential resource for practitioners and researchers who treat and study adolescents.

Research Methods in Family Therapy Douglas H. Sprenkle, Fred P. Piercy, 2005-06-01 Fully revised and updated the second edition of this widely adopted text and professional reference reflects significant recent changes in the landscape of family therapy research.
