Impact Of Training And Development On Employee Performance:

The Impact of Training and Development on Employee Performance in the Kurdistan Region of Iraq Nazhad Ahmed Mussa, 2017 Employee training and development it is a process of equipping the taskforce with the right skills knowledge and ability to achieve the organizations goals and objectives Well trained and highly developed employees are considered as the backbone of every organization s success Hence the purpose of this study has been to conduct an investigation about the impact of training and development on employee performance in Allai Newroz Telecom Group which is located in Kurdistan Region of Iraq Furthermore this dissertation reveals that there is a strong relationship between T D and employee performance In this research both qualitative and quantitative approach are used in collecting relevant data such as structured questionnaire and in depth interview The organization under investigation has approximately one thousand employees in total and of this number 10 % of the employees were randomly chosen as a sample to fill out the questionnaires The results of the study show that a significant number of participants indicated that employee training and development will have positive impact on increasing performance despite all the challenges and difficulties Indeed the results corresponded with most of the existing literatures which affirm that there is a direct correlation between employee training and development and increase employee performance In this context therefore senior managers and decision makers of the organization subscribe to the fact that providing adequate budget for internal and external training can facilitate employees relevant skills knowledge and ability to perform their tasks appropriately Therefore it is recommended that the management of Allai Newroz Telecom Group and all the other companies in internet and telecommunication fields to provide as much training and development sessions as possible irrespective of the cost time and all other difficulties because technology play a crucial role in this field To sum up it is very important that any expenditure on employee training and development will have positive outcome on a long run for the organization

The Effects of Training and Development on Employee Performance in the Public Sector of Ghana Dr. David Ackah, Makafui R. Agboyi, 2014-11-28 Research Paper postgraduate from the year 2014 in the subject Leadership and Human Resources Miscellaneous grade B Atlantic International University School of Business and Economics course Ph D Economics language English abstract The quality of Human Resource is an asset to any organization and as a result Training has become an issue that has to be faced by every organization The amount and quality of training carried out varies enormously from organization to organization due to factors such as the degree of external change for instance new markets or new processes the adaptability of existing workforce and importantly the extent to which the organization supports the idea of internal career development Most organizations meet their needs for training in an ad hoc and haphazard way whiles others set about identifying their training needs then design training activities in a rational manner and finally assess the results of training This study therefore sought to determine the impact of Training and Development on public sector organizations using Ghana Ports and Harbors Authority GPHA as a case study The research was intended to determine the role and impact of training on employees with emphasis on the lower middle level staff and the administrators of GPHA who were randomly selected. The study assessed the training and development process of GPHA and whether training has improved employee performance. A questionnaire was designed using structured questions to collect primary data from employees of GPHA. Personal interviews were held with some management staff of the organization. The results indicated that GPHA's employees were not well informed about training and development programmes in the organization. Most of the employees were of the view that training and development were effective tools for both personal and organizational success. The findings revealed that training practices, methods and activities at GPHA are not in line with the best practices regarding the planned and systematic nature of the training process as is generally known. It was recommended among other things that the processes involved in training be duly followed. GPHA should help its staff identify their career paths and to guide them in the pursuit of higher education.

Impact of Training and Development on Employee Performance Anthony Plein, 2018-03-11. The purpose of this study was to determine the impact of training and development programs on employee performance. The research work of this study has been divided into three parts. Impact of Training and Development on Perceived Employee Performance PhD Sthapit (Prof. Arhan), Babita Ghale, 2020 Ltd of Nepal Based on the survey method, the study collected the data through a structured questionnaire administered from February to March of 2018 on a sample of 112 employees, hierarchical strata of junior and assistants and junior officers drawn from a population of 185 through a random stratified sampling method. Using descriptive statistics and regression analysis, the study discovered a statistically significant impact of T D constituents on the perceived performance of junior officers and assistant level employees of the studied bank. Among the four predictors, T D constituents, the impact of attitude and behavior change was found to be significant, whereas that of other three training content and deliverability instructional design and skills knowledge and ability development of employees was not significant What ensues from the data results is that the ADBL management needs to ensure training contents deliverability and instructional design to enhance competency and productivity of employee Furthermore the ADBL management needs to ensure that T D strategies bring about positive change on attitude and behavior to enhance their HR performance Enhancing Employee
