

A man with dark, wet, wavy hair is smiling broadly at the camera. He is wearing a light-colored, short-sleeved button-down shirt that is stained with brown spots, likely from a liquid spill. He is holding a vintage-style, dark-colored hair dryer in front of him, which is partially obscuring the bottom of the frame. The background is a light-colored, textured wall, possibly made of stone or brick. The overall tone of the image is warm and nostalgic.

Most important perhaps Jackson Highsmith and E X Ferrars depict civilizations that are not essentially orderly that are not founded upon a commonly understood concept of justice where one must make her own order. Discourse and Contemporary Social Change Norman Fairclough, 2007 This book draws together a rich variety of perspectives on discourse as a facet of contemporary social change representing a number of different disciplines theoretical positions and methods.
