Marine Mammal Commission,1990 Marine Engineering & Shipping Age ,1929 Twenty-Two on Peleliu George Peto,Peter Margaritis,2017-07-19 A memoir of a tough childhood and tough combat by an adventurous lively outspoken opinionated WWII Marine veteran Columbus Dispatch On September 15 1944 the US First Marine Division landed on a small island in the Central Pacific called Peleliu as a prelude to the liberation of the Philippines Among the first wave of Marines that hit the beach that day was twenty two year old George Peto Growing up on an Ohio farm George always preferred being outdoors and exploring This made school a challenge but his hunting fishing and trapping skills helped put food on his family's table As a poor teenager living in a rough area he got into regular brawls and he found holding down a job hard because of his wanderlust After working out west with the CCC he decided that joining the Marines offered him the opportunity for adventure plus three square meals a day so he and his brother joined the Corps in 1941 just a few months before Pearl Harbor Following boot camp and training he was initially assigned to various guard units until he was shipped out to the Pacific and assigned to the 1st Marines His first combat experience was the landing at Finschhafen followed by Cape Gloucester Then as a Forward Observer he went ashore in one of the lead amtracs at Peleliu and saw fierce fighting for a week before the regiment was relieved due to massive casualties Six months later his division became the immediate reserve for the initial landing on Okinawa They encountered no resistance when they came ashore but would go on to fight on Okinawa for over six months This is the wild and remarkable story of an Old Breed Marine his youth in the Great Depression his training and combat in the Pacific and his life after the war told in his own words Continental Marine ,1999 The Weekly Underwriter ,1929 Dryden's Second Hundred Years: a Central New York Town in the 20Th Century Elizabeth Denver Gutches,2020-11-18 Dryden's Second Hundred Years Part II does two exceptional things First its tight focus on local participation in World War II paradoxically chronicles the entire war a conflict which drew its combatants from small rural townships like Dryden NY assigned and scattered them throughout the world and then delivered the survivors back home again creating in every small American community a microcosm of the entire conflict an eye witnessing of the whole story Second that story is told here largely in local participants own words in letters from camps troopships carriers cruisers foxholes and hospitals their voices a quiet backdrop to the horrific war they had been asked to fight The resulting narrative suggests that those who don't know history while not always doomed to repeat it are very likely doomed to live their lives without perspective to mistake inconvenience for hardship and hardship for catastrophe and to be blind to the miracle of everyday normal life The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2009 Railway and Marine News ,1911
