Cincinnati Price-current ,1911 Speak English Or What? Philipp Sebastian Angermeyer,2015 This book presents a study of interpreter mediated interaction in New York City small claims courts drawing on audio recorded arbitration hearings and ethnographic fieldwork Focusing on the language use of speakers of Haitian Creole Polish Russian or Spanish the study explores how these litigants make use of their limited proficiency in English in addition to communicating with the help of professional court interpreters Drawing on research on courtroom interaction legal interpreting and conversational codeswitching the study explores how the ability of immigrant litigants to participate in these hearings is impacted by institutional language practices and underlying language ideologies as well as by the approaches of individual arbitrators and interpreters who vary in their willingness to accommodate to litigants and share the burden of communication with them Litigants are shown to codeswitch between the languages in interactionally meaningful ways that facilitate communication but such bilingual practices are found to be in conflict with court policies that habitually discourage the use of English and require litigants to act as monolinguals using only one language throughout the entire proceedings Moreover the standard distribution of interpreting modes in the courtroom is shown to disadvantage litigants who rely on the interpreter as consecutive interpreting causes their narrative testimony to be less coherent and more prone to interruptions while simultaneous interpreting often leads to incomplete translation of legal arguments or of their opponent s testimony Consequently the study raises questions about the relationship between linguistic diversity and inequality arguing that the legal system inherently privileges speakers of English The Mining World ,1910 Maintaining a Minority
