Dream-Child Eric G. Wilson, 2022-01-04 An in depth look into the life of Romantic essayist Charles Lamb and the legacy of his work. A pioneer of urban Romanticism, essayist Charles Lamb (1775-1834) found inspiration in London's markets, theaters, prostitutes, and bookshops. He prized the city's literary scene too where he was a star wit. He counted among his admirers Mary Shelley, William Wordsworth, and Samuel Taylor Coleridge. His friends valued in his conversation what distinguished his writing style: a highly original blend of irony, whimsy, and melancholy. Eric G. Wilson captures Lamb's strange charm in this meticulously researched and engagingly written biography. He demonstrates how Lamb's humor helped him cope with a life-defining tragedy: in a fit of madness, his sister Mary murdered their mother. Arranging to care for her himself, Lamb saved her from the gallows. Delightful when sane, Mary became Charles's muse, and she collaborated with him on children's books. In exploring Mary's presence in Charles's darkly comical essays, Wilson also shows how Lamb reverberates in today's experimental literature.

Greatest Habit John Cornelius, 2012-06-21 A QUESTION During a Masters of Education research project that compared the findings of two of the most important research projects into the nature of personal greatness which sought to identify the key practices in the lives of the happiest healthiest and highest achievers in history one habit towered above all others prayer. Yet according to Brandeis University up to 90% of Americans pray and more than 50% pray daily. There's similar figures all around the world. There's actually no shortage of prayer but there's a vast and distinct shortage of results. What makes the difference? A CALLING. This question began to intrigue. If prayer is the greatest habit for living our best life and the research overwhelmingly pointed that it is so why is it that most that pray live a life far below their real potential? True to the form of the research findings much prayer was applied as looking over the studies and a dangerous calling emerged. Go into the wilderness for 40 days. Contemplate the principles of effective prayer.

and they shall be revealed A QUEST For 40 days on the remote island of Tasmania in total isolation solitude and silence nothing was done but to think about these principles Stepping back from the mountain of researched ideas the question of what makes prayer effective became a positive obsession a subject of constant contemplation The principles were distilled and set up into a logical and learnable system A PRACTICE Returning back home one more question still remained That s all fine and good in theory but what about in practice Can these principles be learned and can they affect real changes So with a select group of practitioners the ideas were put into action There results were outstanding Here are the 7 most important principles
