

A vibrant, painterly illustration of a forest scene. In the center foreground is a close-up of a fox's face. The fox has orange-brown fur, large expressive green eyes, a black nose, and a thick white beard. It is wearing a green sleeveless vest over a light-colored shirt with a brown neckerchief. In the upper left, a woodpecker with black and white stripes is perched on a tree trunk. The background is a lush forest with green foliage and tree trunks. Various mushrooms are scattered on the forest floor, including a cluster of small orange ones on the left and several larger brown ones on the right. The text "Good Morning" is written in a green, cursive font across the upper middle of the image.

Good things, for the young of all ages , 1878 The Golden Age of Folk and Fairy Tales , 2013-03-15

In the late 18th and early 19th centuries, attitudes toward history and national identity fostered a romantic rediscovery of folk and fairy tales. This is the period of the Golden Age of folk and fairy tales, when European folklorists sought to understand and redefine the present through the common tales of the past, and long neglected stories became recognized as cultural treasures. In this rich collection, distinguished expert of fairy tales Jack Zipes continues his lifelong exploration of the story-telling tradition, with a focus on the Golden Age. Included are one hundred eighty-two tales, many available in English for the first time, grouped into eighteen tale types. Zipes provides an engaging general Introduction that discusses the folk and fairy tale tradition, the impact of the Brothers Grimm, and the significance of categorizing tales into various types. Short introductions to each tale type that discuss its history, characteristics, and variants provide readers with important background information Also included are annotations short biographies of folklorists of the period and a substantial bibliography Eighteen original art works by students of the art department of Anglia Ruskin University not only illustrate the eighteen tale types but also provide delightful and sometimes astonishing 21st century artistic interpretations of them The Crimson Fairy Book Andrew Lang,1903 Hungarian Folktales J.K.
