 brings together scholars who are intrigued by today s rapidly changing death practices and attitudes New and different ways of treating the body and memorializing the dead are proliferating across global cities Using ethnographic historical and media based approaches the contributors to this volume focus on new attitudes and practices around mortality and mourning from the possibilities of digitally enhanced afterlives to industrialized necro waste the ethics of care the meaning of secular rituals and the political economy of death Together the chapters coalesce around the argument that there are two major currents running through the new death reconfigurations of temporality and of intimacy Pushing back against the folklorization endemic to anthropological studies of death practices and the whiteness of death studies as a field the chapters
