International Handbook on Geographical Education Rod Gerber, 2013-03-09 I am very pleased to have been asked by Rod Gerber to provide a preface to such a book Not least because of the twenty four chapters eight are written by former students or colleagues with whom I have worked in the past and whom I still meet at conferences on geographical education It is with a certain pride and joy that I note the progress which has been made in geographical education both in its day to day teaching and in research in the twenty years following the end of my term of office as Chair of the Commission on Geographical Education of the International Geographical Union CGEIUG My successors Joe Stoltman Hartwig Haubrich Rod Gerber and now Lea Houtsonen have done much and are continuing to work hard to foster the development of geographical education This book is proof if proof were needed that the international collaboration in this field is alive and well with contributions coming from all the continents except Antarctica It would be a moribund subject that remained unaffected in one way or another by developments on the great world stage as Fairgrieve 1926 would have put it And as Rod Gerber shows the issues of globalisation of cultural encounters of differing value systems of new technologies of variable economic development and of environmental quality all feature as topics which influence and are influenced by geographical education

Voices of Scottish Journalists Ian MacDougall, 2013-11-07 Newspaper journalism is a romantic profession The men and women who wrote for newspapers in the twentieth century started work in a Hold the front page atmosphere hot metal clicking typewriters and inky fingers In this fascinating collection the latest in the Scottish Working People's History Trust series Ian MacDougall has captured the memories of 22 veteran journalists from a wide range of newspapers all over Scotland some local some national The earliest entrant started work in 1929 just before the Great Depression the latest in the mid 1950s Their accounts like so much of oral history describe a physical world we have almost lost sight of since the computer revolution But it was a different social world too it would be unusual for school leavers today to start work as copy boys running out for cigarettes or filling gluepots for their scary older colleagues Journalists had to turn their hands to anything from flower shows to air raids from Hess's landing near Eaglesham to royal visits and women often had to fight their corner to get started as young reporters As journalist Neal Ascherson says in his foreword the book contains a swathe of Scottish social history virtually all these journalists made their way from humble backgrounds drawn by the desire for an exciting rather than a safe job and above all one full of human interest      Oman A "Spy" Guide Volume 1 Strategic Information and Developments IBP, Inc.,2013-08 Oman A Spy Guide Strategic Information and Developments      The Oxford Handbook of Assessment Policy and Practice in Music Education, Volume 1 Timothy S.
