5. A histogram was made of the data of quiz scores in the class. Which measure of central tendency should the histogram use to describe the average quiz score? Mean
6. A table was made of the number of correct quiz scores of students who took a mathematics test. Which measure of central tendency should the teacher use to determine which score is the average score of the class? Mean
7. The scores for a quiz are shown. The class did very well. All students taking the test scored 80 or better. A student who scored 80 for the test and the computer listed their score as 80 on the test is shown. Assuming that no score repeated more than 10, what measure of central tendency would most likely give the best representation of the data?
