Rhodes tells the story of the first approved COVID 19 vaccines and offers an essential up to the minute primer on how scientists discover test and distribute vaccines As the COVID 19 pandemic has affected every corner of the world changing our relationship to our communities to our jobs and to each other the most pressing question has been when will it end Researchers around the globe are urgently trying to answer this question by racing to test and distribute a vaccine that could end the greatest public health threat of our time In How to Make a Vaccine an expert who has firsthand experience developing vaccines tells an optimistic story of how three hundred years of vaccine discovery and a century and a half of immunology research have come together at this powerful moment and will lead to multiple COVID 19 vaccines Dr John Rhodes draws on his experience as an immunologist including working alongside a young Anthony Fauci to unravel the mystery of how vaccines are designed tested and produced at scale for global deployment Concise and accessible this book describes in everyday language how the immune system evolved to combat infection how viruses responded by evolving ways to evade our defenses and how vaccines do their work That history and the pace of current research developments make Rhodes hopeful that multiple vaccines will protect us Today the complex workings of the immune system are well understood The tools needed by biomedical scientists stand ready to be used and more than 160 vaccine candidates have already been produced But defeating COVID 19 won't be the end of the story Rhodes describes how discoveries today are also empowering scientists to combat future threats to global health including a recent breakthrough in the development of genetic vaccines which have never before been used in humans As the world prepares for a vaccine Rhodes offers a current and informative look at the science and strategies that deliver solutions to the crisis

U.S. Marines and Irregular Warfare Nicholas J.

Schlosser, 2015 U S Marines in Irregular Warfare Training and Education is a brief history that recounts how the U S Marine Corps adapted to fight the Global War on Terrorism during 2000-10 The Marine Corps has a long history of fighting irregular wars including the Banana Wars in Central America during the 1920s and the Vietnam War during the 1960s To battle the insurgencies in Iraq and Afghanistan the Corps drew upon this experience while also implementing new plans and programs to better prepare Marines to carry out counterinsurgency operations The Marine Corps updated the curriculum at the Command and Staff College and transformed the annual Combined Arms Exercise into Exercise Mojave Viper an immersive training program that simulated the urban environments in which Marines would be operating in Southwest Asia Most importantly Marines adjusted in the field as battalion and company commanders drew on their basic training and education to devise innovative tactics to better combat the new threats they now faced as this story shows the Marine Corps did not undergo a radical transformation to fight in Iraq and Afghanistan but instead drew on principles that had defined it as a warfighting organization throughout most of its history

Congress,2002 NETosis 2: The Excitement Continues Mariana J. Kaplan,Marko Radic,Martin Herrmann,2017-12-28 NETosis a form of cell death that manifests by the release of decondensed chromatin to the extracellular space provides valuable insights into mechanisms and consequences of cellular demise Because extracellular chromatin can immobilize microbes the extended nucleohistone network was called a neutrophil extracellular trap NET and the process of chromatin release was proposed to serve an innate immune defense function Extracellular chromatin NETs were initially observed in studies of neutrophils and are most prominent in these types of granulocytes Subsequent studies showed that other granulocytes and in a limited way other cells of the innate immune response may also release nuclear chromatin following certain kinds of stimulation Variations of NETosis were noted with cells that remain temporarily motile after the release of chromatin Numerous stimuli for NETosis were discovered including bacterial breakdown products inflammatory stimuli particulate matter certain crystals immune complexes and activated thrombocytes Fundamental explorations into the mechanisms of NETosis observed that neutrophil enzyme activity PAD4 neutrophil elastase proteinase 3 and myeloperoxidase and signal transduction pathways contribute to the regulation of NETosis Histones in NET chromatin become modified by peptidylarginine deiminase 4 PAD4 and cleaved at specific sites by proteases leading to extensive chromatin externalization In addition NETs serve for attachment of bactericidal enzymes including myeloperoxidase leukocyte proteases and the cathelicidin LL 37 NETs are decorated with proteases and may thus contribute to tissue destruction However the attachment of these enzymes to NET associated supramolecular structures restricts systemic spread of the proteolytic activity While the benefit of NETs in an infection appears obvious NETs also participate as key protagonists in various pathologic states Therefore it is essential for NETs to be efficiently cleared otherwise digestive enzymes may gain access to tissues where inflammation takes place Persistent NET exposure at sites of inflammation may lead to a further complication NET antigens may provoke acquired immune responses and over time could initiate autoimmune reactions serve as antigen for nuclear autoantibodies and foster DNA immune complex related inflammation Neutrophil products and deiminated proteins comprise an important group of autoantigens in musculoskeletal disorders Aberrant NET synthesis and or clearance are often associated with inflammatory and autoimmune conditions Recent evidence also implicates aberrant NET formation in the development of endothelial damage atherosclerosis and thrombosis Intravital microscopy provides evidence for conditions that induce NETosis in vivo Furthermore NETs can easily be detected in synovial fluid and tissue sections of patients with arthritis and gout NETosis is thus of interest to researchers who investigate innate immune responses host pathogen interactions chronic inflammatory disorders cell and vascular biology biochemistry and autoimmunity As we enter the second decade of research on NETosis it is useful and timely to review the mechanisms and pathways of NET formation their role in bacterial and fungal defense and their importance as inducers of autoimmune responses The Evangelicals Robert Krapohl, Charles H. Lippy, 1999-04-30 The different facets of American religious life are more thoroughly understood with an awareness of the Evangelical heritage that intersects the different denominational boundaries Since Evangelicalism is not confined to one religious denomination or group it has associations with a number of American religious movements such as Fundamentalism Pentecostalism the Charismatic Movement and Revivalism This study modeled after the popular Greenwood Denominations in America series analyzes the people institutions and the religious culture of modern American Evangelicals Divided into three sections the book presents a history of American Evangelicalism discusses themes and issues in modern American Evangelicalism and provides a biographical dictionary of modern American Evangelical leaders The combination of critical narrative and reference will appeal to religion scholars and American culture scholars alike Separate bibliographies unique to the history section and to the themes and issues section provide valuable resources for further research Equally helpful is the bibliographic material that completes each entry in the biographical dictionary section of the book The three part organization makes this an accessible research tool clearly organized for easy cross referencing
