

1. The glucose created through photosynthesis is used to provide energy needed by the plants to perform life functions such as growing and repairing.
2. To obtain the energy from the food it produces, plants must break down the sugar in the cells throughout the plant in a cellular process called respiration.
3. Cells require glucose and oxygen gas to undergo respiration.
4. Oxygen gas from the air (taken in through the stomata) combines with the glucose, which is then broken down producing carbon dioxide and water.
5. During the process energy is released. This energy will be used by the plant to perform life functions such as growth and repair.
6. The carbon dioxide gas and water that are formed are then given off through the stomata in the leaves.

Transpiration:

1. Some of the water taken in through the roots of plants is used in the process of photosynthesis.
2. Plants store water inside the cells.
3. Plants lose water through the leaves. This process is called transpiration.
4. Without a way to control transpiration, plants would wither up and die.
5. Guard cells, mostly on the underside of the leaf, open and close the stomata and allow plants to control transpiration.
6. When the stomata are closed, water cannot escape from the leaf.

Tropisms:

1. Phototropism is the way a plant grows or moves in response to light.
