Clarendon Lectures in English at the University of Oxford the volume's four chapters explore four paradigms that illuminate poetry's relation to other natural phenomena the ways poems draw on birdsong to veer between language and sound and hence between semantic density and meaninglessness the experience of seasonality as a paradigm for the lyric's recursive use of time the flows and forms of water as an inspiration for the enactment and depiction of motion and rest in poems and finally the vast domain of the imperceptible as a resource for the imagination Her examples range from medieval lyrics to Modernism Poems are events that are felt in time rather than being merely cognized rewarding of our attention like the natural world experienced like the weather in our bodies By reframing poetry in its relation to nature Poetry's Nature hopes to reframe our relation to the world in which we live a task that is of ever greater urgency Haiku, Haiga Elizabeth L.
