Addressing Racism Madonna G. Constantine, Derald Wing Sue, 2006-06-27 Learn to identify and combat unintentional and overt racism This provocative book identifies and addresses racism in mental health and educational settings providing proven strategies for overcoming this stubborn barrier to culturally competent practice While addressing overt forms of racism the book also explores and sensitizes practitioners to covert and unintentional forms of racism that may be equally detrimental in denying persons of color access to unbiased high quality education and mental health care Despite the dismantling of overt racist policies such as segregated schooling and the implementation of policies aimed at remedying racial inequities such as affirmative action racism continues to persist in American society Drs Madonna Constantine and Derald Wing Sue two of the leading researchers and advocates for multicultural competence have collected sixteen thought provoking and challenging chapters on the many ways that racism can affect a practitioner's interactions in mental health and school settings These contributions collectively bring to the forefront highly charged issues that need to be discussed but are too often hidden away The book is divided into four parts What Do We Know about Racism Racism in Mental Health Contexts Racism in Educational Settings Eradicating Racism Future Directions Faced with the responsibility of understanding multiple oppressions and the intersections of racism with sexism classism and heterosexism mental health practitioners and educators must be vigilant of their personal role in perpetuating racism This collected work will help you identify forms of racism both within yourself and the systems you work in and then implement strategies to eliminate them

Intersections of Multiple Identities Miguel E. Gallardo, Brian W. McNeill, 2011-02-11 Over the past two decades there has been an increase in the need to prepare and train mental health personnel in working with diverse populations In order to fully understand individuals from different cultures and ethnic backgrounds practitioners need to begin to examine conceptualize and treat individuals according to the multiple ways in which they identify themselves The purpose of this casebook is to bridge the gap between the current practice of counseling with the newest theories and research on working with diverse clientele Each chapter is written by leading experts in the field of multicultural counseling and includes a case presentation with a detailed analysis of each session a discussion of their theoretical orientation and how they have modified it to provide more culturally appropriate treatment and an explanation of how their own dimensions of diversity and worldviews enhance or potentially impede treatment This text is a significant contribution to the evolving area of multicultural counseling and will be a valuable resource to mental health practitioners working with diverse populations
