The Grand Araucanian Wars (1541-1883) in the Kingdom of Chile Eduardo Agustin Cruz, 2010-04-27 The Mapuches accomplished what the mighty Aztec and Inca empires failed so overwhelming to do to preserve their independence and keep the Spanish invaders at bay The Mapuche infantry played a vital role in the Araucanian war from the initial of the conquest in 1541 to 1883 The goals of this book a To provide an overview of the military aspects weaponry armory the horse and tactic strategy facing the Mapuches at the beginning of the Spanish conquest b To provide an overview of the military superiority enjoyed by the Spanish army in addition the role of the Auxiliary Indian c To point out how by military innovations and adaptation in the face of Araucanian war the Mapuches managed to resist Spanish military campaigns for over 300 years Book History Ezra Greenspan, Jonathan Rose, 2003-09-01 Book History is the annual journal of the Society for the History of Authorship Reading and Publishing Inc SHARP Book History is devoted to every aspect of the history of the book broadly defined as the history of the creation dissemination and the reception of script and print Book History publishes research on the social economic and cultural history of authorship editing printing the book arts publishing the book trade periodicals newspapers ephemera copyright censorship literary agents libraries literary criticism canon formation literacy literacy education reading habits and reader response Contemporary Hispanic Poets: Cultural Production in the Global, Digital Age John Burns, 2015-03-15 Poets writing in Spanish by the end of the twentieth century had to contend with globalization as a backdrop for their literary production They could embrace it ignore it or potentially re imagine the role of the poet altogether This book examines some of the efforts of Spanish language poets to cope with the globalizing cultural economy of the late twentieth century This study looks at the similarities and differences in both text and context of poets some major and some minor writing in Chile Mexico the Mexican American community and Spain These poets write in a variety of styles from highly experimental approaches to poetry to more traditional methods of writing Included in this study are Chileans Ra l Zurita and Cecilia Vicu a Spaniards Leopoldo Mar a Panero and Luis Garc a Montero Mexicans Silvia Tomasa Rivera and Guillermo G mez Pe a and Mexican American Juan Felipe Herrera Some of them embrace and are even embraced by media both old and new whereas others eschew it Some continue their work in the vein of national traditions while others become difficult to situate within any one single national tradition Exploring the varieties of strategies these writers employ this book makes it clear that Spanish language poets have not been exempt from the process of globalization Individually these poets have been studied to varying degrees Globalization has been studied extensively from a variety of disciplinary approaches particularly in the context of the Latin American region and Spain However it is a relative rarity to see poets being studied as they are in this work in terms of their relationship to globalization Taken as a sample or snapshot of writing tendencies in Latin American and Spanish poetry of the late twentieth century this book studies them as part of a greater circuit of cultural production by establishing their literary as well as extra literary genealogies and connections It situates these poets in terms of their writing itself as well as in terms of their literary traditions their methods of contending with neoliberal economic models and global information flows from the television and Internet Although many literary critics attempt to study the connections and relationships between poetry and the world beyond the page few monographs go about it the way this one does It takes a transatlantic approach to contemporary Spanish language poetry focusing on poets on poets from Spain and the American continent emphasizing their connections commonalities and differences across increasingly porous borders in the age of information The relationship between text and context is explored with a cultural studies approach more often associated with media studies than with literary studies Literature is not treated as a privileged object of isolated study but rather as a system of ideas and images that is deeply interwoven with other forms of human expression that have arisen in the last decades of the twentieth century The result is a suggestive analysis of the figure of the poet in the broader globalized marketplace of cultural goods and ideas Contemporary Hispanic Poets Cultural Production in the Global Digital Age is an important book for library collections in Spanish Latin American and Iberian Studies Chicano Studies

Cosmopolitanism in Mexican Visual Culture María Fernández, 2013-12-15 Since the colonial era Mexican art has emerged from an ongoing process of negotiation between the local and the global which frequently involves invention synthesis and transformation of diverse discursive and artistic traditions In this pathfinding book María Fernández uses the concept of cosmopolitanism to explore this important aspect of Mexican art in which visual culture and power relations unite the local and the global the national and the international the universal and the particular She argues that in Mexico as in other colonized regions colonization constructed power dynamics and forms of violence that persisted in the independent nation state Accordingly Fernández presents not only the visual qualities of objects but also the discourses ideas desires and practices that are fundamental to the very existence of visual objects Fern ndez organizes episodes in the history of Mexican art and architecture ranging from the seventeenth century to the end of the twentieth century around the consistent but unacknowledged historical theme of cosmopolitanism allowing readers to discern relationships among various historical periods and works that are new and yet simultaneously dependent on their predecessors She uses case studies of art and architecture produced in response to government commissions to demonstrate that established visual forms and meanings in Mexican art reflect and inform desires expectations memories and ways of being in the world in short that visual culture and cosmopolitanism are fundamental to processes of subjectification and identity
