Historical Dictionary Of Taiwan Cinema:

Historical Dictionary of Taiwan Cinema Daw-Ming Lee, 2012-11-08 Taiwan was able to solidly build and sustain a film industry only after locally produced Mandarin films secured markets in Hong Kong and Southeast Asia during the 1960s and 1970s. Though only a small island with a limited population in its heyday, Taiwan was among the top 10 film producing countries/areas in the world, turning out hundreds of martial arts kung fu films and romantic melodramas annually that were screened in theaters across Southeast Asia and other areas internationally. However, except for one acclaimed film by director King Hu, Taiwan cinema was nearly invisible on the art cinema map until the 1980s when the films of Hou Hsiao-hsien, Edward Yang, and other Taiwan New Cinema directors gained recognition at international film festivals first in Europe and later throughout the world. Since then, many other Taiwan directors have also become an important part of cinema history, such as Ang Lee and Tsai Ming-liang. The Historical Dictionary of Taiwan Cinema covers the history of cinema in Taiwan during both the Japanese colonial period (1895-1945) and the Chinese Nationalist period (1945-present). This is accomplished through a chronology highlighting the main events during the long period and an introduction which carefully analyses the progression. The bulk of the information, however, appears in a dictionary section including over a hundred very extensive entries on directors, producers, performers, films, film studios, and genres. Photos are also included in the dictionary section. More information can be found through the bibliography. Taiwan cinema is truly unique, and this book is a good place to find out more about it, whether you are a student or teacher or just a fan.

Transnational Representations James Wicks,2014-11-01 Transnational Representations focuses on a neglected period in Taiwan film scholarship the golden age of the 1960s and 1970s which saw innovations in plot theme and genre as directors highlighted the complexities of Taiwan s position in the world Combining a concise overview of Taiwan film history with analysis of representative Taiwan films the book reveals the internal and external struggles Taiwan experienced in its search for global identity This cross disciplinary study adopts a transnational approach which presents Taiwan s film industry as one that is intertwined with that of mainland China challenging previous accounts that present the two industries as parallel yet separate The book also offers productive comparisons between Taiwan films and contemporary films elsewhere representing the politics of migration and between the antecedents of new cinema movements and Taiwan New Cinema of the 1980s James Wicks s book offers a most nuanced sensible and timely account of the 1960s to 1970s Taiwan films in terms of plot theme language and generic innovations It zooms in on works by such prominent directors as Li Xing Bai Jingrui Song Cunshou and others highlighting local regional and transnational flows while not losing sight of the complexities in the island state s identity and modernity formation processes Ping hui Liao University of California San Diego Wicks s engaging study forges a comparative approach to Taiwanese cinema that is enlivened and inspired by the possibility of close reading historical research and interviews Most importantly it draws attention to seminal films so rarely discussed in the English language Brian Hu artistic director of the San Diego Asian Film Festival

Early Cinema in Asia Nick Deocampo, 2017-10-09 Early Cinema in Asia explores how cinema became a popular medium in the world's largest and most diverse continent. Beginning with the end of Asia's colonial period in the 19th century, contributors to this volume document the struggle by pioneering figures to introduce the medium of film to the vast continent, overcoming geographic, technological and cultural difficulties. As an early form of globalization, film's arrival and phenomenal growth throughout various Asian countries penetrated not only colonial territories but also captivated collective states of imagination. With the coming of the 20th century, the medium that began as mere entertainment became a means for communicating many of the cultural identities of the region's ethnic nationalities as they turned their favorite pastime into an expression of their cherished national cultures. Covering diverse locations including China, India, Japan, Philippines, Malaysia, Thailand, Iran and the countries of the Pacific Islands, contributors to this volume reveal the story of early cinema in Asia, helping us to understand the first seeds of a medium that has since grown deep roots in the region. Poetics of Slow Cinema Emre Çağlayan, 2018-10-12 This book discusses slow cinema, a contemporary global production trend that has recently gained momentum in film theory and criticism. Slow films dispense with narrative progression in favour of a contemplative mood which is stretched out to the extreme in order to impel viewers to confront cinematic temporality in all its undivided glory. Despite its critical reputation as an oblique mode of film practice, slow cinema continues to attract challenge and provoke audiences. Focusing on filmmakers B. La Tarr, Tsai Ming-liang and Nuri Bilge Ceylan, this book identifies nostalgia, absurd humour and boredom as intrinsic dimensions of slow cinema and explores the ways in which these directors negotiate local filmmaking conventions with the demands of a global cinephile niche. As the first study to treat slow cinema both as an aesthetic style and as an institutional discourse, Poetics of Slow Cinema offers an illuminating perspective on the tradition's historical genealogy and envisions it with a Janus-faced disposition in the age of digital technologies, lamenting at once the passing of difficult, ambiguous modernist film and capitalizing on the yearning for its absence. Pop Culture in Asia and Oceania Jeremy A.
