Beurden,2025-10-01 The discussion about objects ancestral remains and archives from former colonial territories is becoming increasingly heated Over the centuries a multitude of items including a cannon of the King of Kandy power objects from DR Congo Benin bronzes Javanese temple statues Maori heads and strategic documents has ended up in museums and private collections in Belgium and the Netherlands by improper means Since gaining independence former colonies have been calling for the return of their lost heritage As continued possession of these objects only grows more uncomfortable governments and museums must decide what to do How did these objects get here Are they all looted and how can we find out How does restitution work in practice Are there any appealing examples How do other former colonial powers deal with restitution Do former colonies trust their intentions The answers to these questions are far from unambiguous but indispensable for a balanced discussion      Historical Research in the Low Countries N. The Architectural Network of the Van Neurenberg Family in the Low Countries (1480-1640) G. van Tussenbroek,2006 Stone traders initially based in the Meuse valley the Van Neurenberg family expanded northwards to Nijmegen and Dordrecht from 1530 on becoming an international trading company in the process Their subsequent activities reflect the huge changes the Dutch building sector underwent during the 17th century They cooperated with the most famous artists of their time such as Hendrick de Keyser in Amsterdam and were involved in the most modern building projects of the Dutch Golden Age such as Frederik Hendrik of Orange s Honselaarsdijk Palace This study offers new insights into a relatively neglected aspect of Netherlandish building history in the 16th and 17th century Dr Gabi van Tussenbroek 1969 studied art history and medieval history at Utrecht University Since 1 January 2006 he has worked as municipal building archaeologist in Amsterdam      *Het Engeland van C. Bruc ealles well Marc Lodewijckx,2004 The essays in this book are about the peoples of North West Europe in the first millenium AD They were written by archaeologists from various countries who either reveal the results of their archaeological fieldwork or place the knowledge they have of their particular region in a wider supraregional context It is commonly known that archaeologists prefer to devote their time to fieldwork Considering the limited number of archaeologists and the multitude of opportunities for fieldwork this preference is quite understandable if not even obvious In addition to this essay writing is a cumbersome and exhausting activity The warm and enthusiastic response to our request for contributions made it possible to compose an interesting volume We hope that this publication may encourage many others to remain active in the field of archaeology and that the cooperation among colleagues stimulated by this project may be continued in the future De boeken van Velthem Bart Besamusca,Remco Sleiderink,Geert Warnar,2009 De

Dutch Seventeenth-century Genre Painting Wayne E. Franits,2004-01-01

The appealing genre paintings of great seventeenth century Dutch artists Vermeer Steen de Hooch Dou and others have long enjoyed tremendous popularity This comprehensive book explores the evolution of genre painting throughout the Dutch Golden Age beginning in the early 1600s and continuing through the opening years of the next century Wayne Franits a well known scholar of Dutch genre painting offers a wealth of information about these works as well as about seventeenth century Dutch culture its predilections and its prejudices The author approaches genre paintings from a variety of perspectives examining their reception among contemporary audiences and setting the works in their political cultural and economic contexts The works emerge as distinctly conventional images Franits shows as genre artists continually replicated specific styles motifs and a surprisingly restricted number of themes over the course of several generations Luxuriously illustrated and with a full representation of the major artists and the cities where genre painting flourished this book will delight students scholars and general readers alike

'Het pryeel van Zeeland' Martin van den Broeke,2016 Buitenplaatsen

bepaalden vroeger in sterke mate het landschap van Walcheren Wat bewoog stedelingen in de zeventiende en achttiende eeuw om een deel van het jaar buiten de stad te gaan wonen Een belangrijke reden was vermaak maar welke rol speelde het economische aspect En hoe toonden eigenaren van buitenplaatsen hun aanzien macht en smaak Martin van den Broeke laat zien dat al deze factoren in wisselende mate een rol speelden in het buitenleven en hoe dit door de eeuwen heen veranderde. Van den Broeke onderscheidt drie zones rond de steden waar verschillende typen buitenhuizen voorkomen. Nooit eerder zijn buitenplaatsen zo uitgebreid in hun landschappelijke en sociale omgeving beschreven. Dit boek geeft een rijk geschakeerd beeld van twee eeuwen buitenplaatscultuur in het Het pryeel van Zeeland waarvan we de sporen nog zien in het landschap in de archieven en op talrijke fraaie illustraties.
