Luis J. Pedrazuela, 2024-04-08 This edited volume addresses Alexandre Kojève's work from different perspectives emphasizing the continuity between his early reception of a set of non philosophical and philosophical influences and that which he might have sought himself to exercise in a pedagogical and practical manner The first part of the book comprises six essays in which their authors explore Kojève's understanding of art religion and atheism and his reception of the thought of Hegel Marx and Carl Schmitt The book's second part is made up by two contributions that tackle respectively Kojève's conceptions of the end of history and empire in the light of his notion of Sophia or Wisdom and his understanding of the relationship between philosophy and power in the light of an exegetical reading of the debate he held with Leo Strauss The authors of the final three essays set out to explore the extent to which Kojève's previous processing of a set of non philosophical and philosophical influences might have resulted in three increasingly concrete outcomes namely his notion of authority the Lacanian mirror stage and global trade Big and Little Histories Marnie Hughes-Warrington, Anne Martin, 2021-08-19

This book introduces students to ethics in historiography through an exploration of how historians in different times and places have explained how history ought to be written and how those views relate to different understandings of ethics No two histories are the same The book argues that this is a good thing because the differences between histories are largely a matter of ethics Looking to histories made across the world and from ancient times until today readers are introduced to a wide variety of approaches to the ethics of history including well known ethical approaches such as the virtue ethics of universal historians and utilitarian approaches to collective biography writing while also discovering new and emerging ideas in the ethics of history Through these approaches readers are encouraged to challenge their ideas about whether humans are separate from other living and non living things and whether machines and animals can write histories The book looks to the fundamental questions posed about the nature of history making by Indigenous history makers and asks whether the ethics at play in the global variety of histories might be better appreciated in professional codes of conduct and approaches to research ethics management Opening up the topic of ethics to show how historians might have viewed ethics differently in the past the book requires no background in ethics or history theory and is open to all of those with an interest in how we think about good histories
