Infectious Rhythm Barbara Browning, 2013-06-17 Barbara Browning follows the trail of infectious rhythm from the ecstatic percussion of a Brazilian carnival group to the eerily silent video image of the LAPD beating a man like a drum Throughout she identifies the metaphoric strain of contagion which both celebrates the diasporic spread of African culture and serves as the justification for its brutal repression The essays in this book examine both the vital and violent ways in which recent associations have been made between the AIDS pandemic and African diasporic cultural practices including religious worship music dance sculpture painting orature literature and film While pointing to the lengthy and complex history of the metaphor of African contagion Browning argues that in its politicized life affirming embodiment the figure might actually teach us to respond to epidemia humanely Afro-Cuban Diasporas in the Atlantic World Solimar Otero, 2010 Afro Cuban Diasporas in the Atlantic World explores how Yoruba and Afro Cuban communities moved across the Atlantic between the Americas and Africa in successive waves in the nineteenth century In Havana Yoruba slaves from Lagos banded together to buy their freedom and sail home to Nigeria Once in Lagos this Cuban repatriate community became known as the Aguda This community built their own neighborhood that celebrated their Afrolatino heritage For these Yoruba and Afro Cuban diasporic populations nostalgic constructions of family and community play the role of narrating and locating a longed for home By providing a link between the workings of nostalgia and the construction of home this volume re theorizes cultural imaginaries as a source for diasporic community reinvention Through ethnographic fieldwork and research in folkloristics Otero reveals that the Aguda identify strongly with their Afro Cuban roots in contemporary times Their fluid identity moves from Yoruba to Cuban and back again in a manner that illustrates the truly cyclical nature of transnational Atlantic community affiliation Solimar Otero is Associate Professor of English and a folklorist at Louisiana State University Her research centers on gender sexuality Afro Caribbean spirituality and Yoruba traditional religion in folklore literature and ethnography Dr Otero is the recipient of a Ruth Landes Memorial Research Fund grant 2013 a fellowship at the Harvard Divinity School s Women s Studies in Religion Program 2009 to 2010 and a Fulbright award 2001 Mapping Diaspora Patricia de Santana Pinho, 2018-10-26 Brazil like some countries in Africa has become a major destination for African American tourists seeking the cultural roots of the black Atlantic diaspora Drawing on over a decade of ethnographic research as well as textual visual and archival sources Patricia de Santana Pinho investigates African American roots tourism a complex poignant kind of travel that provides profound personal and collective meaning for those searching for black identity and heritage It also provides as Pinho s interviews with Brazilian tour guides state officials and Afro Brazilian activists reveal economic and political rewards that support a structured industry Pinho traces the origins of roots tourism to the late 1970s when groups of black intellectuals artists and activists found themselves drawn especially to Bahia the state that in previous centuries had absorbed the largest number of enslaved Africans African Americans have become frequent travelers across what Pinho calls the map of Africanness that connects diasporic communities and stimulates transnational solidarities while simultaneously exposing the unevenness of the black diaspora Roots tourism Pinho finds is a fertile site to examine the tensions between racial and national identities as well as the gendered dimensions of travel particularly when women are the major roots seekers
