Development Evaluation in Times of Turbulence Ray C. Rist, 2013-04-19 The presence of turbulence in multiple areas of our society food fuel and finances being but three critical areas presently being impacted means that long held assumptions are no longer true that the past is not prologue and that the future is not clear And enter into this unstable present the discipline of evaluation a discipline formed and shaped in the past fifty years of stability little turbulence and strong assumptions that everything will go according to plan If things do not go well it is because of either a poor theory of change on how to bring about positive outcomes or weak efforts at implementation It is not because of the stormy present upsetting our quiet past As it is conventional evaluation behavior and beliefs are ill suited for these times The transformational nature of the Arab Spring is just one arena in which it is clear that a business as usual approach to evaluation is entirely inappropriate The papers in this volume are from the 2011 Global Assembly of the International Development Evaluation Association IDEAS Nearly 350 development evaluators from eighty five countries came together in Amman Jordan to discuss and analyze the consequences of turbulence on evaluation The intent of these papers is to systematically assess what changes have come during this time of turbulence and how these changes are impacting the craft of development evaluation To be clear this book is not about how to assess the impacts of crises on development and on people s lives It is about the meaning of a changed world and changed assumptions on the concepts and methods used in evaluation

Public Policy Evaluation in the Middle East and North Africa Anis Ben Brik, 2025-06-13 This book examines the progress of the development of public policy evaluation in the Middle East and North Africa MENA region from multiple perspectives It describes both past developments and the current state of evaluation across the region focusing on how political regimes administrative traditions and policy advisory systems shape evaluation processes in different contexts With contributions from a diverse list of international authors it investigates the historical development of evaluation across the MENA region and analyses the political landscape highlighting emerging trends and potential challenges that could influence the future of the field An essential resource for researchers and practitioners in evaluation public policy and the MENA region the book also provides students with the practical knowledge and essential skills needed for careers in evaluation and policy analysis

Using Training to Build Capacity World Bank, 2008-03-20 The World Bank finances about US 720 million in training every year through both its lending projects and its in house World Bank Institute WBI The evaluation found that while most of the training reviewed resulted in demonstrable participant learning this learning frequently did not lead to real change in participants workplace performance Poor training outcomes most often resulted from training content that wasn t relevant to the needs and goals of the target institutions or from the trainees lack of incentives or resources to apply learning in their workplaces These findings highlight how important it is for training to be embedded in broader capacity building programs that identify and address organizational and institutional capacity constraints alongside human ones Handbook of Public Policy Evaluation in the Global South Anis Ben Brik,2025-06-09 This insightful Handbook delves into public policy evaluation in the Global South Drawing on in depth case studies it analyzes the complex interplay of historical political economic and social factors that shape evaluation practices in Africa Asia Latin America and the Middle East The Institutionalisation of Evaluation in Asia-Pacific Reinhard Stockmann,Wolfgang Meyer,Niklas Zierke,2023-11-21 This book examines the progress of institutionalisation of evaluation in Asia Pacific from various perspectives It presents prior developments and current states of evaluation in 11 countries focusing on three dimensions namely the political social and professional systems These detailed country reports which have been written by selected researchers and authors of the respective countries lead to a concluding comparison and synthesis This is the third of four volumes of the compendium The Institutionalisation of Evaluation The first volume on Europe was published in 2020 and the second volume on the Americas in 2022 It will be followed by another volume on Africa The overall aim is to provide an interdisciplinary audience with cross country learning to enable them to better understand the institutionalisation of evaluation in different nations world regions and sectors Evaluating Organization Development Maureen Connelly Jones,William J Rothwell,2017-07-06 Evaluating organization development OD and change is critical for any executive team project manager or consultant who wants to see the change effort sustain and successfully evolve Evaluation can be the key to enacting real change that makes sense to the team your customers and your stakeholders while seeing your strategic plan make crucial differences The process of evaluation is often missing from change initiatives and many previous books have glossed over the topic but Evaluating Organization Development How to Ensure and Sustain the Successful Transformation makes planning implementing and then assessing your change efforts simple With handy how to lessons pull out tools that are ready to use and case studies that guide the implementation of each step your team will be able to show the impact and justify the resources for each project In addition your team benefits from this step by step guide because they too will now understand their role and be connected to meeting the challenge of each metric When the team understands the goal and how to achieve it everyone wins Routledge Handbook of Public Policy in Africa Gedion Onyango,2021-12-30 This Handbook provides an authoritative and foundational disciplinary overview of African Public Policy and a comprehensive examination of the practicalities of policy analysis policymaking processes implementation and administration in Africa today The book assembles a multidisciplinary team of distinguished and upcoming Africanist scholars practitioners researchers and policy experts working inside and outside Africa to analyse the historical and emerging policy issues in 21st century Africa While mostly attentive to comparative public policy in Africa this book attempts to address some of the following pertinent questions How can public policy be understood and taught in Africa How does policymaking occur in unstable political contexts or in states under pressure Has the democratisation of governing systems improved policy processes in Africa How have recent transformations such as technological proliferation in Africa impacted public policy processes What are the underlying challenges and potential policy paths for Africa going forward The contributions examine an interplay of prevailing institutional political structural challenges and opportunities for policy effectiveness to discern striking commonalities and trajectories across different African states This is a valuable resource for practitioners politicians researchers university students and academics interested in studying and understanding how African countries are governed

The role of extension and advisory services in building resilience of smallholder farmers Davis, Kristin, Babu, Suresh Chandra, Blom, Sylvia, 2014-05-04 Although there is an increasing base of literature on extension and advisory services their role in building resilience in particular has not yet been explored empirically The literature on resilience in general is itself only in the nascent stage However past intervention efforts that attempt to move from emergency responses to long term development indicate that without well capacitated systems for implementing interventions such a transition could be difficult This brief explores the sustainable livelihoods framework to conceptualize the capacity needs of resilience focused extension and advisory services It indicates where to move the policy and research agenda forward with regard to the role of extension and advisory services in building resilience Climate Change and the World Bank Group World Bank,2011-01-26 This study from the Independent Evaluation Group draws lessons for development and climate change mitigation from the World Bank Group s far reaching portfolio of projects in energy forestry transport coal power and technology transfer Reviewing what has worked what hasn t and why the evaluation s key findings include Energy efficiency can offer countries direct economic returns that dwarf those of most other development projects while also reducing greenhouse gas emissions Tropical forest protected areas on average significantly reduce tropical deforestation preserving carbon and biodiversity Deforestation rates are lower in areas that allowed sustainable use by local populations than in strictly protected areas Deforestation rates were lowest of all in indigenous forest areas For renewable energy projects long duration loans have been important in making projects financially viable But at prevailing carbon prices carbon offset sales had little impact on most renewable energy projects rate of returns and did not address investors need for up front capital Technology transfer broadly understood to include diffusion of technical and financial innovations related to low carbon development has worked well when the logic of piloting and demonstration is well thought out and when grants are used to mitigate the risk of pioneering efforts Climate Change Adaptation Strategies - An Upstream-downstream Perspective Nadine Salzmann,Christian Huggel,Samuel U. Nussbaumer,Gina Ziervogel,2016-10-03 Climate change and the related adverse impacts are among the greatest challenges facing humankind during the coming decades Even with a significant reduction of anthropogenic greenhouse gas emissions it will be inevitable for societies to adapt to new climatic conditions and associated impacts and risks This book offers insights to first experiences of developing and implementing adaptation measures with a particular focus on mountain environments and the adjacent downstream areas It provides a comprehensive state of the art of climate change adaptation in these areas through the collection and evaluation of knowledge from several local and regional case studies and by offering new expertise and insights at the global level As such the book is an important source for scientists practitioners and decision makers alike who are working in the field of climate change adaptation and towards sustainable development in the sense of the Paris Agreement and the Agenda 2030

Enhancing Evaluation Capacity in Nepal ,2014 Climate Change Adaptation Manual Andrea Prutsch,Torsten Grothmann,Sabine McCallum,Inke Schauser,Rob Swart,2014-02-24 Due to the lack of success in climate change mitigation efforts the importance of adaptation is becoming more and more apparent and is now one of the main imperatives of international research and action However research on adaptation is mostly not directly applicable to adaptation policy or practice leaving a gap between scientific results and practical advice for decision makers and planners This book seeks to address this problem and bridge the gap and should provide readers with practical and applicable information on climate change adaptation Following an introduction the book is organised into four main sections each reflecting an essential component in the adaptation process Climate change adaptation is an emerging subject area and has gained increased political and academic attention within the last decade Whereas most books in the field focus on adaptation in developing countries this volume provides an examination of predominantly European policy and offers inter disciplinary insight into cutting edge knowledge and lessons learnt in a relatively new field of implementation

Conflict-Sensitive Conservation

Carl Bruch,Geeta Batra,Anupam Anand,Shehla Chowdhury,Sierra Killian,2023-08-10 This book provides an empirically formulated foundation for conflict sensitive conservation a field in which the existing literature relies primarily on anecdotal evidence Seeking to better understand the impact of conflict on the implementation and outcomes of environmental projects the Global Environment Facility GEF Independent Evaluation Office and the Environmental Law Institute undertook an evaluation of GEF support to fragile and conflict affected contexts Following a qualitative and quantitative analysis of documents from more than 4 000 projects the research team discovered a statistically significant negative correlation between a country s Fragile States Index score and the implementation quality of environmental projects in that country In this book the evaluation and research team explain these groundbreaking findings in detail highlighting seven key case studies Afghanistan Albertine Rift Balkans Cambodia Colombia Lebanon and Mali Drawing upon additional research and interviews with GEF project implementation staff the volume illustrates the pathways through which conflict and fragility frequently impact environmental projects It also examines how practitioners and sponsoring institutions can plan and implement their projects to avoid or mitigate these issues and find opportunities to promote peacebuilding through their environmental interventions Examining data from 164 countries and territories this innovative book will be of great interest to students and scholars of environmental management conservation international development and the fast growing field of environmental peacebuilding It will also be a great resource for practitioners working in these important fields The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons
