Goguen, Erik Myin, 2000 Science of art commentary on Ramachandran and Hirstein Art and the Brain The Emergence of Art and Language in the Human Brain Cave Art autism and the evolution of the human mind On aesthetic perception Inner Vision Exploration Art Zeki, 1999-10-01 Cognitive Sciences and Medieval Studies Juliana

Dresvina, Victoria Blud, 2020-11-01 This study brings together medieval studies and cognitive methodologies in a study specifically aimed at medievalists It presents a longer history of certain mental health conditions and locates contemporary debates about the mind in a broader historical framework It considers both the benefits of incorporating insights from contemporary neuroscientific and cognitive studies into the exploration of the past and the benefits of employing historical models and case studies in order to reflect on modern methods The Life of Imagination Jennifer Anna

Gosetti-Ferencei, 2018-10-30 Imagination allows us to step out of the ordinary but also to transform it through our sense of wonder and play artistic inspiration and innovation or the eureka moment of a scientific breakthrough In this book Jennifer Anna Gosetti Ferencei offers a groundbreaking new understanding of its place in everyday experience as well as the heights of creative achievement The Life of Imagination delivers a new conception of imagination that places it at the heart of our engagement with the world thinking acting feeling making and being Gosetti Ferencei reveals imagination's roots in embodied human cognition and its role in shaping our cognitive ecology She demonstrates how imagination arises from our material engagements with the world and at the same time endows us with the sense of an inner life how it both allows us to escape from reality and aids us in better understanding it Drawing from philosophy cognitive science evolutionary anthropology developmental psychology literary theory and aesthetics Gosetti Ferencei engages a spectacular range of examples from ordinary thought processes and actions to artistic scientific and literary feats to argue that like consciousness itself imagination resists reductive explanation The Life of Imagination offers a vital account of transformative thinking that shows how imagination will be essential in cultivating a future conducive to human flourishing and to that of the life around us

Memory in the Twenty-First Century Sebastian Groes, 2016-03-29 This book maps and analyses the changing state of memory at the start of the twenty first century in essays written by scientists scholars and writers It recontextualises memory by investigating the impact of new conditions such as the digital revolution climate change and an ageing population on our world The Archaeology of Seeing Liliana Janik, 2020-01-28 The Archaeology of Seeing provides readers with a new and provocative understanding of material culture through exploring visual narratives captured in cave and rock art sculpture paintings and more The engaging argument draws on current thinking in archaeology on how we can interpret the behaviour of people in the past through their use of material culture and how this affects our understanding of how we create and see art in the present Exploring themes of gender identity and story telling in visual material culture this book forces a radical reassessment of how the ability to see makes us and our ancestors human as such it will interest lovers of both art and archaeology Illustrated with examples from around the world from the earliest art from hundreds of thousands of years ago to the contemporary art scene including street art and advertising Janik cogently argues that the human capacity for art which we share with our most ancient ancestors and cousins is rooted in our common neurophysiology The ways in which our brains allow us to see is a common heritage that shapes the creative process what changes according to time and place are the cultural contexts in which art is produced and consumed The book argues for an innovative understanding of art through the interplay between the way the human brain works and the culturally specific creation and interpretation of meaning making an important contribution to the debate on art archaeology

Architecture, Travellers and Writers Anne

Hultzsch,2017-07-05 Does the way in which buildings are looked at and made sense of change over the course of time How can we find out about this By looking at a selection of travel writings spanning four centuries Anne Hultzsch suggests that it is language the description of architecture which offers answers to such questions The words authors use to transcribe what they see for the reader to re imagine offer glimpses at modes of perception specific to one moment place and person Hultzsch constructs an intriguing patchwork of local and often fragmentary narratives discussing texts as diverse as the 17th century diary of John Evelyn Daniel Defoe s Robinson Crusoe 1719 and an 1855 art guide by Swiss art historian Jacob Burckhardt Further authors considered include 17th century collector John Bargrave 18th century novelist Tobias Smollett poet Johann Wolfgang von Goethe critic John Ruskin as well as the 20th century architectural historian Nikolaus Pevsner Anne Hultzsch teaches at the Bartlett School of Architecture University College London

Cultivating the Arts in Education and Therapy Malcolm

Ross,2012-04-27 The constituency for education and therapy in the arts is rapidly expanding beyond the conventional school and clinical settings to include the wider community In Cultivating the Arts in Education and Therapy Malcolm Ross integrates traditional Chinese Five Element Theory also known as The Five Phases of Change with contemporary Western psychological and cultural studies to form a new Syncretic Model of creative artistic practice The Syncretic Model is explored and validated through an analysis of interviews with practising successful artists and in a comprehensive review of the latest neuro scientific research into human consciousness and emotion The book addresses the well documented difficulties experienced by arts teachers and therapists intervening in supporting and evaluating the creative development of individual students and clients This groundbreaking text repositions the arts as central to the effective initiation and management of change in contemporary society Besides being of wide general interest it will have particular relevance for practising and trainee arts teachers arts therapists and community artists With the demand for their services growing and pressure to demonstrate effectiveness mounting the arts community is looking to build bridges between the different arts and between arts education and therapy across national boundaries This book offers a fresh coherent and challenging framework for a revitalized reflective practice from an experienced authority in the field      Embodying Art Chiara Cappelletto,2022-11-08

In recent years neuroscientists have made ambitious attempts to explain artistic processes and spectatorship through brain imaging techniques But can brain science really unravel the workings of art Is the brain in fact the site of aesthetic appreciation Embodying Art recasts the relationship between neuroscience and aesthetics and calls for shifting the focus of inquiry from the brain itself to personal experience in the world Chiara Cappelletto presents close readings of neuroscientific and philosophical scholarship as well as artworks and art criticism identifying their epistemological premises and theoretical consequences She critiques neuroaesthetic reductionism and its assumptions about a mind body divide arguing that the brain is embodied and embedded in affective cultural and historical milieus Cappelletto considers understandings of the human brain encompassing scientific philosophical and visual and performance arts discourses She examines how neuroaesthetics has constructed its field of study exploring the ways digital renderings and scientific data have been used to produce the brain as a cultural and visual object Tracing the intertwined histories of brain science and aesthetic theory Embodying Art offers a strikingly original and profound philosophical account of the human brain as a living artifact      Neurology Of The

Arts: Painting, Music And Literature F Clifford Rose,2004-04-21 This book is the first attempt to provide a basis for the interaction of the brain and nervous system with painting music and literature The introduction deals with the problems of creativity and which parts of the brain are involved Then an overview of art presents the multiple facets such as anatomy and the myths appearing in ancient descriptions of conditions such as polio and migraine The neurological basis of painters like Goya and van Gogh is analysed Other chapters in the section on art cover da Vinci s mechanics and the portrayal of epilepsy The section on music concerns the parts of the brain linked to perception and memory as well as people who cannot appreciate music and the effect of music on intelligence and learning the Mozart effect The section on literature relates to Shakespeare Dostoyevsky Conan Doyle James Joyce and the poetry of one of England s most famous neurologists Henry Head a

Byzantine Materiality Evan Freeman,Roland Betancourt,2024-06-04 This volume explores the power of matter and materials in the Eastern Roman Empire also known as Byzantium Recent attention to matter as dynamic and meaningful constitutes an emerging interdisciplinary field of inquiry known as materiality new materialism or the material turn Materials can be symbolic but matter can also act on human subjects This volume builds on these insights to consider the role of matter materials form and embodied experiences in Byzantium In many respects Byzantine materiality represents a continuation of its Greco Roman inheritance which was also shared by neighboring peoples such as the Umayyads and Abbasids But the Byzantines also developed their own unique perspectives on matter and form as with their parsing of the sacred materialities of icons the Eucharist and relics Chapters in this volume consider the cultural meanings and functions of materials such as gold and ivory the materiality of icons and relics experiences of objects as well as Byzantine philosophies of matter and form Materiality takes center stage in Byzantine constructions of power luxury belief and identity which will be of interest to scholars and students of Byzantium and the wider medieval world

Hagia Sophia and the Byzantine Aesthetic Experience Nadine Schibille, 2016-04-22 Paramount in the shaping of early Byzantine identity was the construction of the church of Hagia Sophia in Constantinople 532 537 CE This book examines the edifice from the perspective of aesthetics to define the concept of beauty and the meaning of art in early Byzantium Byzantine aesthetic thought is re evaluated against late antique Neoplatonism and the writings of Pseudo Dionysius that offer fundamental paradigms for the late antique attitude towards art and beauty These metaphysical concepts of aesthetics are ultimately grounded in experiences of sensation and perception and reflect the ways in which the world and reality were perceived and grasped signifying the cultural identity of early Byzantium There are different types of aesthetic data those present in the aesthetic object and those found in aesthetic responses to the object This study looks at the aesthetic data embodied in the sixth century architectural structure and interior decoration of Hagia Sophia as well as in literary responses ekphrasis to the building The purpose of the Byzantine ekphrasis was to convey by verbal means the same effects that the artefact itself would have caused A literary analysis of these rhetorical descriptions recaptures the Byzantine perception and expectations and at the same time reveals the cognitive processes triggered by the Great Church The central aesthetic feature that emerges from sixth century ekphrasis of Hagia Sophia is that of light Light is described as the decisive element in the experience of the sacred space and light is simultaneously associated with the notion of wisdom It is argued that the concepts of light and wisdom are interwoven programmatic elements that underlie the unique architecture and non figurative decoration of Hagia Sophia A similar concern for the phenomenon of light and its epistemological dimension is reflected in other contemporary monuments testifying to the pervasiveness of these aesthetic values in early Byzantium Aesthetic Science Arthur P.

Shimamura,Stephen E.
