Love Imagined A Mixed Race Memoir:

Love Imagined Sherry Quan Lee, 2014-08-27 Love Imagined is an American woman's unique struggle for identity. Joining the long history of women of color fighting to claim literary space to tell our stories, Sherry Quan Lee shares her truth with fierce courage and strength in Love Imagined. Quan Lee crafts a riveting tale of Minnesota life set within the backdrop of racial segregation, the Cold War, the sexual revolution, while navigating it all through the lens of her multi-layered identities. A true demonstration of the power of an intersectional perspective. Kandace Creel Falcon, Ph.D., Director of Women's and Gender Studies, Minnesota State University Moorhead. Love Imagined this fascinating, delightful, important book. This imagining love, this longing for love. This poverty of No Love, this persistent racism, sexism, classism, ageism. The pain these evils cause the soul. This is an important document of a mixed-race contemporary woman, a memoir about her family lineages back to slavery, back to China, back to early Minneapolis, and about the struggle of finding herself in all of these. Sharon Doubiago, author of My Father's Love When I Read. Sherry's story, Love Imagined, I recognized feelings and meanings that mirrored mine. I felt a sense of release, an exhale, and I knew I could be understood by her in a way that some of my family and friends are unable to grasp through no fault of their own. It's the Mixed experience. Sherry Lee's voice, her story, will no doubt touch and heal many who read it. Lola Osunkoya, MA, Founder of Neither Both LLC, Mixed Race Community Building and Counseling. Write Sherry Quan Lee, 2022 How Dare We Write a multicultural creative writing discourse offers a much needed corrective to the usual dry and uninspired creative writing pedagogy. The collection asks us to consider questions such as: What does it mean to work through resistance from supposed mentors to face rejection from publishers and classmates and to stand against traditions that silence you? and How can writers and teachers even begin to make diversity matter in meaningful ways on the page in the classroom and on our bookshelves? The expanded 2nd edition includes six new works Creating Literary Spaces that reach beyond the personal beyond the present into unknown spaces that make a difference. How Dare We Write is an inspiring collection of intellectually rigorous lyric essays and innovative writing exercises; it opens up a path for inquiry, reflection, understanding, and creativity that is ultimately healing. Septuagenarian Sherry Quan Lee, 2021. Septuagenarian love is what happens when I die is a memoir in poetic form. It is the author's journey from being a mixed race girl who passed for white to being a woman in her seventies who understands and accepts her complex intersectional identity and no longer has to imagine love. It is a follow up to the author's previous memoir prose Love Imagined, a mixed race memoir, a Minnesota Book Award finalist. Praise for Sherry Quan Lee's Septuagenarian. In Septuagenarian, Sherry Quan Lee accepts her own invitation to look at life in retrospect but with a new lens. Pulling from and expanding upon her previous body of work, she examines the version of herself that was writing at that time. The dignity and fire of her seventy-three year old gaze, taking in snapshots of those selves, straightens my spine and gives me a vision for myself traveling today into my future septuagenarian. Lola Osunkoya, MA, LPCC. Sherry Quan Lee writes courageously to understand herself and the world She uses rich language and her skills as a storyteller to focus her sharp lens on what it means to have a complex sometimes complicated identity becoming invisible as she ages a history of passing unseen love and sex grieving and celebration She ruminates on history which repeats itself in the current moment and widens her lens to look at the bigger global picture to tell truths in poems that tenderly hold memory time rituals trauma mothering fear of death and love in many forms Her poems offer deeply personal intimate and perceptive insights and opportunities to reflect on what it means to truly live It feels like I've taken the journey with her and I'm wiser for it Shay Youngblood author of Soul Kiss and Black Girl in Paris Septuagenarian by Sherry Quan Lee is a book that answers in many different ways the question posed in one of the poems contained within What does surrender look like Surrender looks like passion like the banishment of shame like truth telling The narrator is not afraid of death but embraces the inseparability and magnitude of opposing forces The world is a large body of terror where good and evil coexist and each of us is responsible Quan Lee's bold language makes space for living within impossibilities It is a book that maps often with aching beauty many of the author's passions desires grief and the circularity of life at seventy I have lost so many people over time but at seventy long term memory brings them back both the wicked and the wise story ends where it begins Sun Yung Shin author of Unbearable Splendor Learn more at blog.SherryQuanLee.com From Modern History Press

Forgeries of Memory and Meaning Cedric J. Robinson, 2012-09-01 Cedric J Robinson offers a new understanding of race in America through his analysis of theater and film of the early twentieth century He argues that economic political and cultural forces present in the eras of silent film and the early talkies firmly entrenched limited representations of African Americans Robinson grounds his study in contexts that illuminate the parallel growth of racial beliefs and capitalism beginning with Shakespearean England and the development of international trade He demonstrates how the needs of American commerce determined the construction of successive racial regimes that were publicized in the theater and in motion pictures particularly through plantation and jungle films In addition to providing new depth and complexity to the history of black representation Robinson examines black resistance to these practices Whereas D W Griffith appropriated black minstrelsy and romanticized a national myth of origins Robinson argues that Oscar Micheaux transcended uplift films to create explicitly political critiques of the American national myth Robinson s analysis marks a new way of approaching the intellectual political and media racism present in the beginnings of American narrative cinema
