Industrial Ruination, Community, and Place Alice Mah, 2012-01-01 F bricas abandonadas astilleros refiner as y naves industriales en desuso forman parte del paisaje de muchas de nuestras ciudades A pesar del deterioro estas estructuras permanecen unidas firmemente al tejido urbano que las rodea En este libro Alice Mah explora el proceso del declive urbano y posindustrial de tres ciudades distintas Niagara Fallls Canada USA Newcastle upon Tyne UK and Ivanovo Russia

Industrial Ruination, Community and Place Alice Mah, 2012-10-03 Abandoned factories shipyards warehouses and refineries are features of many industrialized cities around the world But despite their state of decline these derelict sites remain vitally connected with the urban landscapes that surround them In this enlightening new book Alice Mah explores the experiences of urban decline and post industrial change in three different community contexts Niagara Falls Canada USA Newcastle upon Tyne UK and Ivanovo Russia Employing a unique methodological approach that combines ethnographic spatial and documentary methods Mah draws on international comparisons of the landscapes and legacies of industrial ruination over the past forty years Through this she foregrounds the complex challenges of living with prolonged uncertainty and deprivation amidst socioeconomic change This rich comparative study makes an essential contribution to far reaching debates about the decline of manufacturing regeneration and identity and will have important implications for urban theory and policy

Geographies of Post-Industrial Place, Memory, and Heritage Mark Alan Rhodes II, William R. Price, Amy Walker, 2020-11-23 All industrialization is deeply rooted within the specific geographies in which it took place and echoes of previous industrialization continue to reverberate in these places through to the modern day This book investigates the overlap of memory and the impacts of industrialization within today s communities and the senses of place and heritage that grew alongside and in reaction to the growth of mines mills and factories The economic and social change that accompanied the unchecked accumulation of wealth and exploitation of labor as the industrial revolution spread throughout the world has numerous lasting impacts on the socioeconomics of today Likewise the planet itself is now reeling The memory and heritage of these processes reach into the communities that owe the industrial revolution their existence but these populations also often suffered adverse impacts to their health and environment through the large scale and rapid extraction of natural resources and production of goods Through the themes of memory community and place working post industrial landscapes and the de romanticization of industrial pasts this book examines the endurance and decline of these communities the spatial processes of industrial byproducts and the memory and heritage of industrialization and its legacies While based in the traditions of geography this collection also draws upon and will be of great interest to students and scholars of cultural anthropology archaeology sociology history architecture civil engineering and heritage memory museum and tourism studies Using global examples the authors provide a uniquely geographic understanding to industrial heritage across the spaces places and memories of industrial development situates racism within America's structural foundations and institutions to consider how racial discrimination and segregation have changed the trajectory of the USA from its colonial beginnings to the present day. It provides readers with contextual background for better understanding the history and underpinnings of racism in America, an introduction to the most important and high profile problems, controversies and solutions related to racism in American life and perspectives from experts in a variety of fields related to race relations and African American history. Other features include profiles of important people and organizations fighting for racial equality and reconciliation from Black Lives Matter to the American Civil Liberties Union. A detailed chronology pinpoints relevant events in American history while an annotated bibliography guides students to the next step in their research.

Connecting with Ambivalent Heritage Tiina Äikäs, Tuuli Matila, 2024-09-05 Exploring the difficult and contested sites of deindustrialized society on the brink of transformation to either heritage or wasteland, this volume looks at the creative ways that such sites are re-used and suggests that they are not always merely abject or abandoned. As a result, our understanding of the meanings given to left-over spaces is enhanced by an examination of the ways they are used. Ambivalent heritage sites are not always recognized for their potential, although artists and people from different recreational activities such as industrial sites and parkour use and experience these places in different ways. The contributors introduce fresh ideas on how to approach these sites and the people invested in them, employing multidisciplinary methodologies from archaeology and heritage studies to ethnography and sociology. Through the use of Northern European case studies such as a former sanatorium, a prison and the Chernobyl Exclusion Zone, the reader gains a new perspective on these sites of contestation which are cherished despite their problematic status. The conclusion is that due to the rapid societal change we are experiencing in the contemporary world, heritage professionals must start to acknowledge and deal with the difficulties that ambivalent heritage sites pose.

Re-imagining Contested Communities Elizabeth Campbell, Kate Pahl, Elizabeth Pente, Zanib Rasool, 2018-03-21 This is a book that challenges contemporary images of place. Too often we are told about deprived neighbourhoods but rarely do the people who live in those communities get to shape the agenda and describe from their perspective what is important to them. In this unique book, the process of re-imagining comes to the fore in a fresh and contemporary look at one UK town, Rotherham. Using history, artistic practice, writing, poetry, autobiography and collaborative ethnography, this book literally and figuratively re-imagines a place. It is a manifesto for alternative visions of community located in histories and cultural reference points that often remain unheard within the mainstream media. As such, the book presents a how-to for researchers interested in community collaborative research and accessing alternative ways of knowing and voices in marginalised communities.

Murray, 2022-02-15 Winner 2023 Choice Outstanding Academic Title Now for the first time in history the majority of the world s population lives in cities But urbanization is accelerating in some places and slowing down in others The sprawling megacities of Asia and Africa as well as many other smaller and medium sized cities throughout the Global South are expected to continue growing At the same time older industrial cities in wealthier countries are experiencing protracted socioeconomic decline Nonetheless mainstream urban studies continues to treat a handful of superstar cities in Europe and North America as the exemplars of world urbanism even though current global growth and development represent a dramatic break with past patterns Martin J Murray offers a groundbreaking guide to the multiplicity heterogeneity and complexity of contemporary global urbanism He identifies and traces four distinct pathways that characterize cities today tourist entertainment cities with world class aspirations struggling postindustrial cities megacities experiencing hypergrowth and instant cities or master planned cities built from scratch Murray shows how these different types of cities respond to different pressures and logics rather than progressing through the stages of a predetermined linear path He highlights new spatial patterns of urbanization that have undermined conventional understandings of the city exploring the emergence of polycentric fragmented haphazard and unbounded metropolises Such cities he argues should not be seen as deviations from a norm but rather as alternatives within a constellation of urban possibility Innovative and wide ranging Many Urbanisms offers ways to understand the disparate forms of global cities today on their own terms Critical Perspectives on
