Loving The Stranger Welcoming Immigrants In The Name Of Jesus:

Loving the Stranger Jessica A. Udall, 2015-12-30 Most American Christians think that helping immigrants is a good idea in theory but few actually get involved in the ministry of welcome because they feel afraid concerned or overwhelmed by busyness Loving the Stranger addresses these fears in an understanding way answers these concerns in a way that will resonate regardless of people's political convictions and lays out simple ways to begin welcoming immigrants in the midst of our busy lives by simply welcoming them into our lives Communication in Mission Marcus Dean, Scott Moreau, Sue Russell, Rochelle Scheuermann, 2022-10-07 Communicating the Gospel To All People By All Means Communication has always been the heartbeat of God's interaction with humankind and without thoughtful communication mission is not fully effective With the rise of technology and social media the church faces a unique set of opportunities At the same time our shrinking world presents challenges and requires an increased sensitivity to social cultural and geopolitical triggers With case studies that span the globe from Australia and Asia to the Black church and Muslim youth diaspora in the United States this book closely considers what is working in the twenty first century and what isn't From post colonial contexts to creative access countries this collection doesn't shy away from today's complex issues Communication in Mission pulls together diverse voices some seem like shouts and others like gentle whispers but each has an important contribution for all who will listen and learn This synthesis of personal experiences from field practitioners and theoretical concepts from scholars lays a foundation for application calling for careful and intentional communication in the ongoing work of missions Full of hope this book looks forward to the gospel being received as Good News around the globe Mission in Praise, Word, and Deed Edward L. Smither, Jessica A. Udall, 2023-09-26 Listening to the Voices of Global Practitioners In Christian mission we cross boundaries between the people of God and the not yet people of God declaring God's glory among the nations Ps 96:3 Mission begins and ends in worship In mission we proclaim the death burial and resurrection of Christ We also care for the whole person Thus at its core mission intertwines praise word and deed This book represents the latest in missiological thinking Though some contributors are scholars and even professors most are field practitioners evangelists church planters Bible translators medical professionals refugee workers and community development specialists Based on decades of faithful service they report on what they have learned about mission Mission in Praise Word and Deed addresses a wide range of critical concerns such as informal theological education Bible translation business as mission trauma care and working on multicultural teams As we ponder best mission practices it's wise to hear from global practitioners those who have been at it for a long time This book represents the diversity of the global church They are men and women from Africa Asia Latin America North America and Europe who have served or presently serve in places across the world These contributors share the conviction that the future of missions involves a growing global church and missionary workforce joining hands to complete the Great Commission amid severe opposition and disruption Reading 1 Peter Missiologically Abeneazer G.

Urga, Jessica A. Udall, Edward L. Smither, 2024-06-24 Gaining Fresh Insights for Missions In today's world the church on mission faces the immense challenge of engaging an array of cultures and ideologies. To address these issues, theologians and missiologists usually focus on Jesus and Paul. However, the Apostle Peter's words, steeped in wisdom, are another vital link between foundational Christian truths and the complexities of our global context. For this reason, Reading 1 Peter Missiologically is a significant contribution to both biblical scholarship and mission practice. Examining 1 Peter through a missiological lens unveils the apostle's strategic approach to cross-cultural evangelism amidst persecution and cultural diversity. It is not just an academic exercise; the authors provide practical insights for missionaries, church leaders, and theologians, helping them to contextualize the gospel in a culturally sensitive manner. This book bridges the gap between theological study and real-world application. Reading 1 Peter Missiologically is an essential resource for anyone seeking to participate in Christian outreach more effectively. It challenges readers to rethink modern missionary strategies. If you want to deepen your understanding of the Bible's teaching on global mission and apply it across the world, this book is a must-read.

Reading Hebrews Missiologically Abeneazer G. Urga, Edward L. Smither, Linda P. Saunders, 2023-02-28 Gaining New Insights from Hebrews God's interactions with Israel were a foreshadowing of the perfect reality in the person of Jesus, absolutely God and absolutely human. Jesus came to earth to establish his kingdom, and all that God had initiated in the old covenant. There is a continuity of theological understanding as we move from the Old Testament to the letter sent to the Christians in Rome. The discussion on the theology of mission in the New Testament usually focuses on Jesus and Paul, with minimal attention given to the General Epistles. However, Reading Hebrews Missiologically tries to fill that gap and focuses on the theology of mission in the book of Hebrews and fleshes out the unique contribution it has to the discussion of a New Testament theology of mission. The twelve contributors from various theological, geographical, and missiological contexts explore the missionary motive, the missionary message, and the missionary method of the Epistle to the Hebrews. All Scripture can be read missiologically, and the letter to the Hebrews, with its emphasis on the supremacy of Christ, is no exception. We pray that this book will inspire fresh approaches to practical mission in the world today. Equipping for Global Mission

Linda P. Saunders, Gregory Mathias, Edward L. Smither, 2024-08-13 From Cognitive Teaching to Connected Learning Given the landscape of global Christianity and the variety of approaches to theological and missiological training today, how do we equip the global church for the mission of God? Should mission organizations or sending churches conduct their own in-house training? What is the role of Bible colleges and seminaries in equipping for mission today? What about informal approaches to theological and ministry training? Equipping for Global Mission offers insights from seasoned scholars and practitioners. Beginning with theological convictions and practical reflections, our authors make a case for what equipping for mission could look like in the present global church. Case studies from India, China, North America, and Britain further challenge the reader to reflect on this critical issue. The full scope of educating for mission is far too broad of a task for any single organization This is why the contributors serve the church so well by enlarging a much needed conversation This book is a clarion call to all who care about missions and the global church Join world leaders in reshaping missions education today by using the practical and strategic wisdom in these pages The ^Astrangers in Our Midst Ulrike Elisabeth Stockhausen,2021-05-25 This book examines evangelical responses to immigrants and refugees in the era of modern immigration It traces evangelical responses to refugees and immigrants from the Cuban refugees in the 1960s to their divided stances on undocumented immigration in the twenty first century While evangelicals drew on elaborate Biblical teachings to welcome the stranger in their activism how and to whom they applied those teachings must be understood through the lens of their partisan leanings In telling this forgotten story The Strangers in Our Midst adds a missing dimension to the public debate surrounding evangelical partisanship Halfway Up the Mountain Mark Wagner,William Wagner,2020-12-29 Recently a top Christian leader wrote an article entitled America is in Crisis What do we do This theme was very interesting to me thus I read it with great expectations but was sorry to hear once again that the apparent answer to the question was to return to the old methods that we have been using in the past The world is changing and there are myriads of new possible methods and tools that can be used in the proclamation of the Gospel We need to seek new answers to the question of What do we do The title of this book shows both the success of the past but also give us new challenges for the future Our goal is to complete the great Commission of Jesus Christ and that is to Make disciples of all nations We have had much success in that at the present time we can say that approximately one third of the world claims some adherence to the Christian Faith But the job is not yet completed We are only half way there In climbing a mountain the start is easy and exciting We look at the beautiful peaks and can imagine what it will be like when we reach the top of the mountain Once we have reached the peak we have an unspeakable joy as to our accomplishments It is only when we are halfway up the mountain that real discouragement sets in When we are half way towards our ultimate goal we need to get ready for the more difficult part of the task We have accomplished much but still much needs to be done There are twelve authors who have contributed to this book All are experts in one of the ten mountains of culture The writers of this book are suggesting how we can look at the ten mountains of culture and discover new and creative ways of making the Gospel known to all peoples This book is intended to both inform the reader of the present situation and to challenge them to think on what we can accomplish when we apply mega thinking to our present satiation Authors Jenny Clark Alan Cross Timothy Goropevek Thomas K Johnson John Langlois David McAlvany Mary Catherine McAlvany Timo Plutschinski Charles Reynolds Hans Gunter Schmidts Walker Tzeng Mark Wagner William Wagner Cultural Engagement Joshua D. of immigration to the United States have traditionally focused on a few key states and urban centers but recent shifts in nonwhite settlement mean that these studies no longer paint the whole picture Many Latino newcomers are flocking to places like the Southeast where typically few such immigrants have settled resulting in rapidly redrawn communities In this historic moment Jennifer Jones brings forth an ethnographic look at changing racial identities in one Southern city Winston Salem North Carolina This city turns out to be a natural experiment in race relations having quickly shifted in the past few decades from a neatly black and white community to a triracial one Jones tells the story of contemporary Winston Salem through the eyes of its new Latino residents revealing untold narratives of inclusion exclusion and interracial alliances The Browning of the New South reveals how one community's racial realignments mirror and anticipate the future of national politics Congressional Record United States.
