Planting the Seeds of Equity Ruchi Agarwal-Rangnath, 2020. Bringing together an inspirational group of educators, this book provides key insights into what it means to implement social justice ideals with young children, pre-K to grade 2. Each chapter highlights a teacher's experience with a specific aspect of social justice and ethnic studies, including related research, projects, and lesson plans, and implications for teacher education. The text engages readers in critical dialogue, drawing from works within ethnic studies to think deeply about ideals such as humanization, representation, and transformation. Finding ways to integrate acceptance of difference and social justice content into the primary grades is a complex and challenging endeavor. These teacher stories are ones of courage and commitment, inspiring the possibility of radical change. Book Features: Guidance for teachers who want to teach for social justice, including lesson plans and strategies; Examples of what ethnic studies looks like in early childhood classrooms; Dialogue questions to prompt critical thinking and professional conversation; Windows into classrooms that foster valuing of self and respect for diversity of color, ethnicity, and gender; Activities to tap into personal strengths and enrich teaching, including yoga and song; Connections to relevant research. I salute Dr. Ruchi Rangnath for bringing together such a powerful set of teacher voices to produce a book that celebrates children and communities of Color. From the Foreword by Patrick Camangian, University of San Francisco. This is an essential text for anyone interested in the transformational possibilities of early childhood education. Rita Kohli, University of California.
