Ong, Z. Hochberg, 2012-10-01 The body of knowledge in most medical specialties is rapidly expanding making it virtually impossible to follow all advances in clinical and basic sciences that are relevant to a given field This is particularly true in pediatric endocrinology at the cross road of pediatrics endocrinology development and genetics Providing abstracts of articles that report the year's breakthrough developments in the basic sciences and evidence based new knowledge in clinical research and clinical practice that are relevant to the field the Yearbook of Pediatric Endocrinology 2012 keeps busy clinicians and scientists pediatric endocrinologists and also pediatricians and endocrinologists informed on new advances Twelve Associate Editors and their co authors selected from several thousand papers those that brought the most meaningful new information summarized them and provided comments to put them into perspective The papers are classified into those that identify new genes involved in diseases new hormones concepts revised or re centered important observations for clinical practice large scale clinical trials new mechanisms new paradigms important review articles new fears and new hopes Because the Yearbook is endorsed by the European Society for Paediatric Endocrinology ESPE its publication is linked to the annual meeting of the ESPE The Yearbook of Pediatric of ACTH action but also phosphatases phosphodiesterases ion channels and the cytoskeleton The importance of the proteins involved in the cell detoxification is also considered in particular the effect that ACTH has on protection against reactive oxygen species generated during steroidogenesis The impact of the cellular microenvironment including local production of ACTH is discussed both as an important factor in the maintenance of homeostasis but also in pathological situations such as severe inflammation Finally the Research Topic reviews the role that the pituitary adrenal axis may have in the development of metabolic disorders In addition to mutations or alterations of expression of genes encoding components of the steroidogenesis and signaling pathways chronic stress and sleep disturbance are both associated with hyperactivity of the adrenal gland A resulting effect is increased glucocorticoid secretion inducing food intake and weight gain which in turn leads to insulin and leptin resistance These aspects are described in detail in this Research Topic by key investigators in the field Many of the aspects addressed in this Research Topic still represent a stimulus for future studies their outcome aimed at providing evidence of the central position occupied by the adrenal cortex in many metabolic functions when its homeostasis is disrupted An in depth investigation of the mechanisms underlying these pathways will be invaluable in developing new therapeutic tools and strategies
