Donovan, 2025-09-09 For readers who found comfort in Joan Didion's The Year of Magical Thinking a 9/11 widow's memoir of rediscovering joy and finding love again after the violent loss of her husband One sunny Tuesday morning Maryellen Donovan's beloved husband Steve Cherry lost his life in the 9/11 attacks rocking her to her core and changing her family forever Maryellen's life and love with Steve was all she could have hoped for in the wake of his death she was inconsolable But ultimately she had no choice but to be strong for her two young sons and even when deep in the grip of hopeless despair she found solace in her deep faith and belief that with the support of friends and family she would eventually find love and happiness once again Her route to her happy ending proved long and winding and full of obstacles cancer family conflict even more loss but she always found a way forward no matter the setbacks she encountered An inspirational story that will provide hope to anyone who s experienced unfathomable loss and loneliness The Road to Yesterday is a testament to the idea that there is always a path to love and joy if only you re determined enough to keep yourself open to it Goodnight

Arizpe, Maureen Farrell, Julie McAdam, 2014-10-14 The picturebook is now recognized as a sophisticated art form that has provided a space for some of the most exciting innovations in the field of children's literature. This book brings together the work of expert scholars from the UK, the USA and Europe to present original theoretical perspectives and new research on picturebooks and their readers. The authors draw on a variety of disciplines such as art and cultural history, semiotics, philosophy, cultural geography, visual literacy, education and literary theory in order to revisit the question of what a picturebook is and how the best authors and illustrators meet and exceed artistic narrative and cultural expectations. The book looks at the socio-historical conditions of different times and countries in which a range of picturebooks have been created, pointing out variations but also highlighting commonalities. It also discusses what the stretching of borders may mean for new generations of readers and what contemporary children themselves have to say about picturebooks. This book was originally published as a special issue of the New Review of Children's Literature and Librarianship. A to Zoo

Rebecca L. Thomas, 2018-06-21. Whether used for thematic story times program and curriculum planning, readers advisory or collection development, this updated edition of the well-known companion makes finding the right picture books for your library a breeze. Generations of savvy librarians and educators have relied on this detailed subject guide to children's picture books for all aspects of children's services, and this new edition does not disappoint. Covering more than 18,000 books published through 2017, it empowers users to identify current and classic titles on topics ranging from apples to zebras. Organized simply with a subject guide that categorizes subjects by theme and topic and subject headings arranged alphabetically, this reference applies more than 1,200 intuitive as opposed to formal catalog subject terms to children's picture books, making it both a comprehensive and user-friendly resource that is accessible to parents and teachers as well as librarians. It can be used to identify titles to fill in gaps in library collections, to find books on particular topics for young readers, to help teachers locate titles to support lessons or to design thematic programs and story times. Title and illustrator indexes, in addition to a bibliographic guide arranged alphabetically by author name, further extend access to titles.

Growing Up with Literature Walter Sawyer, Diana Elizabeth Comer, 1995. Growing Up With Literature 2E provides a comprehensive collection of the best children's book titles with a multitude of practical hands-on activities for using the books in early childhood and primary grade educational programs. It provides a rationale for using literature procedures for selecting books, explanations of how to use books in the classroom, and a variety of steps to foster a love of reading in children.
