Text-Dependent Questions, Grades K-5 Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, Heather Anderson, Marisol Thayre, 2014-09-02 Fisher Frey's answer to close and critical reading No doubt since the cave paintings of prehistoric times humans have asked questions to make sense of the message So what could possibly be new about posing questions about text Plenty and with TDQ Doug Fisher and Nancy Frey reveal it all After one quick read you will have learned all the very best ways to use text dependent questions as scaffolds during close reading and the big understandings they can yield especially when executed the Fisher and Frey way But that's just for starters Fisher and Frey also include illustrative video recommended texts and questions examples from across content areas and an online professional learning guide making the two volumes of TDQ a potent professional development tool across all of K 12 The genius of TDQ is the way Fisher and Frey break down the process into four cognitive pathways that help teachers organize the journey through a text and frame an extended discussion around it Step by step this approach ensures that in every close reading lesson students are guided to consider explicit and implied meanings and deeply analyze and appreciate various aspects of a text especially those that may be challenging or confusing Here's how the four inter related processes play out with every why and every how answered What does the text say general understandings and key details How does the text work vocabulary structure and author's craft What does the text mean logical inferences and intertextual connections What does the text inspire you to do write investigate present debate The cool thing These questions ignite students engagement and discussion because they strategically lead students to a place of understanding where explicit and implied meanings and interpretations can be debated Far from being overly literal or teacher led the questioning framework Fisher and Frey advance enhances the quality of student talk and idea generation All in all there's no better resource to cultivate students capacity for independent reading and incisive thinking Longtime collaborators and recipients of numerous teaching and leadership awards DOUGLAS FISHER and NANCY FREY are Professors of Educational Leadership at San Diego State University as well as teacher leaders at Health Sciences High Middle College

1990 Census of Population and Housing Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands ,1990* The Selfless Constitution Stu Woolman,2021-07-28 Do you possess freedom

the will to do as you choose as an individual as a participant in social affairs or as a citizen in the political realm Well no Not really At least not as most of us understand a term loaded down with metaphysical baggage Don t worry You ve got something better a neurological system capable of carrying out the most complex analytical and computational tasks membership in innumerable communities that provide you with huge stores of knowledge and wisdom and a politico constitutional order that ought to provide the material and the immaterial conditions that will enable you to pursue a life worth valuing Drop the simplistic folk psychology of unfettered freedom whilst holding on to intentionality and you might be inclined to adopt a set of social practices and political arrangements that enhance the chances that you and your compatriots will flourish As many recent studies of consciousness reveal our neurological systems are complex feedback mechanisms designed to create myriad for trial and error and if you survive the production of new stores of knowledge Individuals comprised of numerous radically heterogeneous naturally and socially determined selves are always experimenting attempting to divine through reflection and action what works best even when best means fully embracing who we already are Choice architects those persons charged with constructing the environments within which we operate daily should if responsible regularly run experiments that attempt to eliminate biases and ultimately deliver norms that nudge us away from negative defaults toward more optimal ends A constitutional democracy made up of millions of radically heterogeneous densely populated individuals constantly strives to determine what works best for most of its many constituents Because South Africa s Constitution states at an extremely high level of generality only some of the norms that govern our lives it remains for citizens representatives and judges to create doctrines and institutions that serve its capaciously framed ends best After canvassing the relevant literature in neuroscience empirical philosophy behavioural psychology social capital theory development economics and emergent experimental governance this work suggests that manifold experiments in living that fall within the accepted parameters of our shared constitutional norms are likely over time to produce more optimal ways of being that can be replicated by other members of our polity Our reflexive stance toward best practices a linchpin of this book s take on experimental governance when inextricably linked to a commitment to flourishing and to the expansion of individual capabilities should cause us to alter the content of the fundamental norms that shape our lives and bind us to one another A political order founded upon experimental constitutionalism and flourishing promises an egalitarian pluralist reformation of South African society The book spins out its novel thesis against the concrete backdrop of political arrangements and judicial doctrines that have emerged during the first 20 years of our truly vibrant constitutional democracy Its trenchant analysis of political institutions and constitutional case law shows us how far we have come and how far we still have to go

Multilingual Learning and Language Supportive Pedagogies in Sub-Saharan Africa Elizabeth J. Erling, John Clegg, Casmir M. Rubagumya, Colin Reilly, 2021-07-01 This edited collection provides unprecedented insight into the emerging field of multilingual education in Sub Saharan Africa SSA Multilingual education is claimed to have many benefits amongst which are that it can improve both content and language learning especially for learners who may have low ability in the medium of instruction and are consequently struggling to learn The book represents a range of Sub Saharan school contexts and describes how multilingual strategies have been developed and implemented within them to support the learning of content and language It looks at multilingual learning from several points of view including translanguaging or the use of multiple languages and especially African languages for learning and language supportive pedagogy or the implementation of a distinct pedagogy to support learners working through the medium of a second language The book puts forward strategies for creating materials classroom environments and teacher education programmes which support the use of all of a student s languages to improve language and content learning The contexts which the book describes are challenging including low school resourcing poverty and low literacy in the home and school policy which militates against the use of African languages in school The volume also draws on multilingual education approaches which have been successfully carried out in higher resource countries and lend themselves to being adapted for use in SSA It shows how multilingual learning can bring about transformation in education and provides inspiration for how these strategies might spread and be further developed to improve learning in schools in SSA and beyond Chapter 3 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> Using Emerging Technologies to Develop Professional Learning Jean Murray, Warren Kidd, 2017-10-02 Internationally there is a growing body of research about learners responses to and uses of emerging technologies However the adoption of these technologies in teachers professional development is still largely under researched Much of the existing literature still positions teachers as playing catch up in terms of using technology for teaching and learning in an ever expanding and changing world and ignores the roles that these emerging technologies can play in teacher and teacher educator development and learning This book aims to address the lack of research in the area and it contributes to the new knowledge area of how emerging technologies can effectively address professional learning drawing on case studies and perspectives from across the world Contributors use a wide variety of approaches to analyse the potential for emerging and established technologies including digital Web2 0 social media and IT tools to develop effective or deep professional learning for pre and in service teachers and teacher educators This book was originally published as a special issue of Professional Development in Education Congressional Districts of the 98th Congress, 1983 Nutrition Education Printed Materials and Audiovisuals Shirley King Evans, 1990 Nutrition and the Elderly Shirley King Evans, 1990 Teachers College Syllabi Columbia University. Teachers College, 1922 Relanguaging Language from a South African Township School Lara-Stephanie Krause-Alzaidi, 2021-12-20 Using data from a long term ethnographic study of English language classrooms in a South African township this book highlights linguistic expertise in a setting where it is not usually expected or sought Rather than being peripheral and unskilled South African township teachers and learners emerge as skilled re languagers central to the workings of South African education and to our understanding of how language classrooms work This book foregrounds the heterogeneity flexibility and creativity of day to day language practices that African urban spaces are known for and conceptualises language teaching not as a progression from one fixed language to another but as a circular sorting process between linguistic heterogeneity languaging and homogeneity a standard language
