Adonis Vidu,2021-03-04 Classical Trinitarianism holds that every action of Trinity in the world is inseparable That is the divine persons are equally active in every operation But then in what way did the Father create the world through Christ How can only the Son be incarnate die and be resurrected Why does Christ have to ascend before the Spirit may come These and many other questions pose serious objections to the doctrine of inseparable operations In the first book length treatment of this doctrine Adonis Vidu takes up these questions and offers a conceptual and dogmatic analysis of this essential axiom engaging with recent and historical objections Taking aim at a common soft interpretation of the inseparability rule according to which the divine persons merely cooperate and work in concert with one another Vidu argues for the retrieval of hard inseparability which emphasizes the unity of divine action primarily drawing from the patristic and medieval traditions Having probed the biblical foundations of the rule and recounted the story of its emergence in nascent Trinitarianism and its neglect in modern theology Vidu builds a constructive case for its retrieval The rule is then tested precisely on the battlegrounds that were thought to have witnessed its defeat the doctrines of creation incarnation atonement ascension and the indwelling of the Spirit What emerges is a constructive account of theology in which the recovery of this dogmatic rule shines fresh light on ancient doctrines

Nadira Talib,2020-06-03 Despite meritocratic claims of equal opportunity official statistics released by the Ministry of Education Singapore reveal that a large segment of the Malay population has sustained the lowest academic achievement from 1987 to 2011 This statistical representation raises the possibility of a politically induced systemic inequality as a point of investigation To investigate this seeming contradiction between the rhetoric and practice of equal educational opportunity Nadira Talib analyses education policies by drawing on a synthesis of philosophical perspectives and critical discourse analysis as a way of making explicit how the historical constitution of the learner is linked to the legitimisation of inequitable education policies that favour corporatist practices By making explicit how the underlying assumption of the policy logic that increasing expenditure on talents must necessarily involve the increasing welfare of everybody is both unsubstantiated and arbitrary the book presents a moral political problem in demonstrating how education policies are unfounded and unsupported through the idea of meritocracy Where Shall I Educate My Son?
