Grammar Lessons Translating A Life In Spain Sightline Books:

Grammar Lessons Michele Morano, 2007-04 In the thirteen personal essays in Grammar Lessons Michele Morano connects the rules of grammar to the stories we tell to help us understand our worlds Living and traveling in Spain during a year of teaching English to university students she learned to translate and interpret her past and present worlds to study the surprising moments of communication as a way to make sense of language and meaning longing and memory Morano focuses first on her year of living in Oviedo in the early 1990s a time spent immersing herself in a new culture and language while working through the relationship she had left behind with an emotionally dependent and suicidal man Next after subsequent trips to Spain she explores the ways that travel sparks us to reconsider our personal histories in the context of larger historical legacies Finally she turns to the aftereffects of travel to the constant negotiations involved in retelling and understanding the stories of our lives Throughout she details one woman's journey through vocabulary and verb tense toward a greater sense of her place in the world Grammar Lessons illustrates the difficulty and delight humor and humility of living in a new language and of carrying that pivotal experience forward Michele Morano's beautifully constructed essays reveal the many grammars and many voices that we collect and learn from as we travel

The Great Chain of Life Joseph Wood Krutch, 2005-08 Originally published in 1956 The Great Chain of Life brings a humanist's keen eye and ear to one of the great questions of the ages What am I Originally a scholar of literature and theater toward the end of his career Joseph Wood Krutch turned to the study of the natural world Bringing his keen intellect to bear on the places around him Krutch crafted some of the most memorable and important works of nature writing extant Whether anticipating the arguments of biologists who now ascribe high levels of cognition to the so called lower animals recognizing the importance of nature for a well lived life or seeing nature as an elaborately interconnected interdependent network Krutch's seminal work contains lessons just as resonant today as they were when the book was first written Lavishly illustrated with thirteen beautiful woodcuts by Paul Landacre an all but lost yet important Los Angeles artist whom Rockwell Kent called the best American wood engraver working The Great Chain of Life will be cherished by new generations of readers

Stories We Tell Ourselves Michelle Herman, 2013-03-15 The two thought provoking extended essays that make up Stories We Tell Ourselves draw from the author's richly diverse experiences and history taking the reader on a deeply pleasurable walk to several unexpectedly profound destinations A steady accumulation of fascinating science psychoanalytic theory and cultural history ranging as far and wide as neuro ophthalmology ancient dream interpretation and the essential differences between Jung and Freud is smoothly intermixed with vivid anecdotes entertaining digressions and a disarming willingness to risk everything in the course of a revealing personal narrative Dream Life plumbs the depth of dreams conceptually biologically and as the nursery of our most meaningful metaphors as it considers dreams and dreaming every whichway from the haruspicy of the Roman Empire to contemporary sleep and dream science from the way birds dream to the way babies do from our longing to tell them to the reasons we wish other people wouldn't Seeing Things recounts a journey of mother and daughter a Holmes and Watson pair intrepidly working their way through the mysteries of a disorder known as Alice in Wonderland Syndrome even as it restlessly detours into the world beyond the looking glass of the unconscious itself In essays that constantly offer layers of surprises and ever deeper insights the author turns a powerful lens on the relationships that make up a family on expertise and unsatisfying diagnoses on science and art and the pleasures of contemplation and inquiry and on our fears regrets hopes and of course dreams

Return to Warden's Grove Christopher Norment, 2008-04 Based on three seasons of field research in the Canadian Arctic Christopher Norment's exquisitely crafted meditation on science and nature wildness and civilization is marked by bottomless prose reflection on timeless questions and keen observations of the world and our place in it In an era increasingly marked by cutting edge research at the cellular and molecular level what is the role for scientists of sympathetic observation What can patient waiting tell us about ourselves and our place in the world His family at home in the American Midwest Norment spends months on end living in isolation in the Northwest Territories studying the ecology of the Harris's Sparrow Although the fourteenth century German mystic Meister Eckhardt wrote God is at home we are in the far country Norment argues that an intellectual emotional and spiritual far country can be found in the lives of animals and arctic wilderness For Norment doing science can lead to an enriched aesthetic and emotional connection to something beyond the self and a way to develop a sacred sense of place in a world that feels increasingly less welcoming certain and familiar

In the Memory of the Map Christopher Norment, 2012-03-15 Throughout his life maps have been a source of imagination and wonder for Christopher Norment Mesmerized by them since the age of eight or nine he found himself courted and seduced by maps which served functional and allegorical roles in showing him worlds that he might come to know and helping him understand worlds that he had already explored Maps may have been the stuff of his dreams but they sometimes drew him away from places where he should have remained firmly rooted In the Memory of the Map explores the complex relationship among maps memory and experience what might be called a cartographical psychology or cartographical history Interweaving a personal narrative structured around a variety of maps with stories about maps as told by scholars poets and fiction writers this book provides a dazzlingly rich personal and intellectual account of what many of us take for granted A dialog between desire and the maps of his life an exploration of the pleasures utilitarian purposes benefits and character of maps this rich and powerful personal narrative is the matrix in which Norment embeds an exploration of how maps function in all our lives Page by page readers will confront the aesthetics mystery function power and shortcomings of maps causing them to reconsider the role that maps play in their lives

On the Shoreline of Knowledge Chris Arthur, 2012-08-15 The carefully crafted meditative essays in On the Shoreline of Knowledge sometimes start from unlikely objects or thoughts a pencil or some fragments of commonplace conversation but they soon lead the reader to consider fundamental themes in human experience The unexpected circumnavigation of the ordinary unerringly gets to the heart of the matter Bringing a diverse range of material into play from fifteenth century Japanese Zen Buddhism to how we look at paintings and from the nature of a briefcase to the ancient nest sites of gyrfalcons Chris Arthur reveals the extraordinary dimensions woven invisibly into the ordinary things around us Compared to Loren Eiseley George Eliot Seamus Heaney Aldo Leopold V S Naipaul W G Sebald W B Yeats and other literary luminaries he is a master essayist whose work has quietly been gathering an impressive cargo of critical acclaim Arthur speaks with an Irish accent rooting the book in his own unique vision of the world but he addresses elemental issues of life and death love and loss that circle the world and entwine us all Little Big World Jeffrey Hammond,2010-04-15 Collections are more about who one is than about what is collected In Little Big World Jeffrey Hammond s resonant 1950 s inner child speaks through the reflective sixty something man about the culture and magic of a spectrum of action figure playsets through a lifetime Marilyn Gelfman Karp author In Flagrate Collecto Great Expectation Dan Roche,2008-09 In Great Expectation Dan Roche gives a man s perspective on what it means to start and expand a family relatively later in life Through a series of diary entries in turns humorous angst ridden and full of hope and joy Roche describes his own thoughts and concerns during the nine months of his wife s pregnancy With five years of parenting his irrepressible daughter Maeve under his belt Roche already forty five years old and his wife Maura face the prospect of another arrival and the myriad of emotions that come with a second child From revelling in the joys of pregnancy such as Maura s delight at having cleavage and being able to eat whatever she desires to assuaging the parental anxieties of choosing the right obstetrician correcting the mistakes one made with the first child and sending children to college in the future to navigating the unforeseen experiencing the unexpected death of a parent and feeling trepidation toward the thought of having a son Roche records his emotions with unusual candidness and intimacy Reflecting on day to day events and their significance in his family s life together Roche wonders what he is getting himself into and how much deeper he can immerse himself into parenting Together he and his wife face the bittersweet intersections of death and new life menace and hopefulness With sincerity and a mature wit Great Expectation stands as a wise recounting of nine months time with all of its chaos and charms and offers a fresh perspective for first time and veteran parents alike

Family Bible Melissa J. Delbridge,2009-05-01 Swimming and sex seemed a lot alike to me when I was growing up You took off most of your clothes to do them and you only did them with people who were the same color as you As your daddy got richer you got to do them in fancier places Starting with her father who never met a whitetail buck he couldn t shoot a whiskey bottle he couldn t empty or a woman he couldn t charm and her mother who invented road rage before 1960 Melissa Delbridge introduces us to the people in her own family bible Readers will find elements of Southern Gothic and familiar vernacular characters but Delbridge endows each with her startling and original interpretation In this disarmingly unguarded and unapologetic memoir she shows us what really happened in the stew of religion and sex that was 1960s Tuscaloosa Anthropologies Beth Alvarado,2011-09-03 A vivid archive of memories Beth Alvarado s Anthropologies layers scenes portraits dreams and narratives in a dynamic cross cultural mosaic Bringing her lyrical tenor to bear on stories as diverse as harboring teen runaways gunfights with federales and improbable love Alvarado unveils the ways in which seemingly separate moments coalesce to forge a communal truth Woven from the threads of distinct family histories and ethnic identities Anthropologies creates a heightened understanding of how individual experiences are part of a larger shared fabric of lives Like the opening of a series of doors each turn of the page reveals some new reality and the memories that emerge from it Open one door and you are transported to a modest Colorado town in 1966 appraising animal tracks edged into a crust of snow while listening to stories of Saipan Open another and you are lounging in a lush Michoacan hacienda or in another the year is 1927 and you are standing on a porch in Tucson watching La Llorona turn a corner With vivid imagery and a poetic sensibility Anthropologies reenacts the process of remembering and so evokes a compelling narrative Each snapshot provides a glimpse into the past illuminating the ways in which memory and history are intertwined Whether the experience is of her own drug use or that of a great great grandmother s trek across the Great Plains with Brigham Young Alvarado s insight into the binding nature of memory illuminates a new way of understanding our place within families generations and cultures

Dream Not of Other Worlds Huston Diehl, 2007-04 When Huston Diehl began teaching a fourth grade class in a Negro elementary school in rural Louisa County Virginia the school s white superintendent assured her that he didn t expect her to teach those children anything She soon discovered how these low expectations widely shared by the white community impeded her students ability to learn With its overcrowded classrooms poorly trained teachers empty bookshelves and meager supplies her segregated school was vastly inferior to the county s white elementary schools and the message it sent her students was clear dream not of other worlds In her often lyrical memoir Diehl reveals how in the intimacy of the classroom her students reached out to her a young white northerner and shared their fears anxieties and personal beliefs Repeatedly surprised and challenged by her students Diehl questions her long standing middle class assumptions and confronts her own prejudices In doing so she eloquently reflects on what the students taught her about the hurt of bigotry and the humiliation of poverty as well as dignity courage and resiliency Set in the waning days of the Jim Crow South Dream Not of Other Worlds chronicles an important moment in American history Diehl examines the history of black education in the South and narrates the dramatic struggle to integrate Virginia s public schools Meeting with some of her former students and colleagues and visiting the school where she once taught she considers what has and has not changed after more than thirty years of integrated schooling This provocative book raises many issues that are of urgent concern today the continuing social consequences of segregated schools the role of public education in American society and the challenges of educating minority and poor children

The Desert Year Joseph Wood Krutch, 2010-04-15 Originally published New York W Sloane Associates c1952

Trespases Lacy M Johnson, 2012-03-15 A series of vividly rendered personal narratives Trespases A Memoir recounts the coming of age of three generations in the rural Great Plains In examining how class race and gender play out in the lives of two farm families who simultaneously love and hate the place they can't escape Lacy Johnson presents rural whiteness as an ethnicity worthy of study As she dismantles the complex history of a forgotten place while fighting to keep its people whole Johnson reflects on a place that outsiders can cross into or pass through but may never fully know From formal and informal research methods Johnson has produced an innovative collection of prose poems and essays that together create an exciting work of contemporary nonfiction Examining region through the lenses of memory experience history memory made public and theory experience abstracted Trespasses is a deeply intelligent work at the center of which is the author always feeling as if she doesn't belong but not sure where she else she should be In this profound work Johnson drifts gracefully back and forth between timelines and voices in a way that illustrates how her present is connected to the many pasts she chronicles
