Mapping Latino Studies An Interdisciplinary Reader Intersections In Communications And Culture:

Mapping Latina/o Studies Angharad N. Valdivia, Matthew Garcia, 2012 Mapping Latina o Studies brings together an interdisciplinary group of scholars to discuss the dynamic field of Latina o Studies Drawing on media studies communications history education literature anthropology popular music and sociology this collection explores the limits and possibilities of the category of Latinidad The volume includes scholars who support the continuity of nation specific identities and areas of study such as Chicano and Dominican Studies in conversation with scholars who not only work within Latina o Studies as a pan ethnic pan national category but also explore the inevitable transnationality of a category whose people and culture flow across national borders The Routledge Companion to Race and Ethnicity Stephen M. Caliendo, Charlton D.

McIlwain, 2020-10-27 The second edition of The Routledge Companion to Race and Ethnicity offers readers a broad overview of scholarly exploration of the ways that humans have organized themselves and have been organized according to racial and ethnic divisions More than 80 scholars from around the world and representing multiple academic traditions contribute entries to this accessible yet sophisticated volume that addresses contemporary issues in historical context The first half of the book challenges readers to grapple with some of the most controversial aspects of categorization prejudice and discrimination through focused chapters ranging from the notion of Whiteness to the supposed biological rationale for racial categorization The second half is comprised of 70 shorter entries on specialized concepts persons and groups that are crucial to understanding these issues Taken as a whole this volume provides a broad multi disciplinary and global overview of issues that continue to provide challenges to notions of equality and justice Resources in Education , 1997 Latinx

Experiences Maria J. Villaseñor, Hortencia Jimenez, 2023-07-12 This reader introduces students to the variety and complexity of Latinxs experiences in the U S and prepares them for further study in this interdisciplinary field The opening essay written by the editors offers a broad overview of the approximately 59 million people in the U S who identify as Hispanic The rest of the book will consist of contributed essays from Latina o Chicana o scholars on a range of subjects including immigration citizenship and deportation racial identities political participation and power educational and economic achievement family religion media and popular culture Although the essays are written for lower division undergraduates they reflect many of the leading theoretical and methodological approaches in the field The essays are unified by an intersectional approach demonstrating how experiences and life chances of Latinxs are also shaped by gender social class sexuality age and citizenship status Making Signs, Translanguaging Ethnographies Ari Sherris, Elisabetta Adami, 2018-10-29 This book is the beginning of a conversation across Social Semiotics Translanguaging Complexity Theory and Radical Sociolinguistics In its explorations of meaning multimodality communication and emerging language practices the book includes theoretical and empirical chapters that move toward an understanding of communication in its dynamic complexity and its social semiotic and situated character It relocates current debates in linguistics and in multimodality as well as conceptions of centers margins by re conceptualizing communicative practice through investigation of indigenous oral communities street art performances migration contexts recycling artefacts and signage repurposing The book takes an innovative approach to both the form and content of its scholarly writing and will be of interest to all those involved in interdisciplinary thinking researching and writing
