Selling Welfare Reform Frank Ridzi, 2009-04 The 1996 Welfare Reform Act promised to end welfare as we knew it In Selling Welfare Reform Frank Ridzi uses rich ethnographic detail to examine how new welfare to work policies time limits and citizenship documentation radically changed welfare revealing what really goes on at the front lines of the reformed welfare system Selling Welfare Reform chronicles how entrepreneurial efforts ranging from front line caseworkers to high level administrators set the pace for restructuring a resistant bureaucracy At the heart of this remarkable institutional transformation is a market centered approach to human services that re framed the definition of success to include diversion from the present system de emphasis of legal protections and behavioral conditioning of poor parents to accommodate employers Ridzi draws a compelling portrait of how welfare staff and their clients negotiate the complexities of the low wage labor market in an age of global competition exposing the realities of how the new common sense of poverty is affecting the lives of poor and vulnerable Americans Post-Carbon Inclusion Ralph Horne, Aimee Ambrose, Gordon Walker, Anitra Nelson, 2024-05-30 This collection pays unique attention to the highly challenging problems of addressing inequality within decarbonisation particularly under explored aspects such as high consumption degrowth approaches and perverse outcomes Contributors point out means and possibilities of the transition from high carbon inequalities to post carbon inclusion They apply a variety of conceptual and methodological approaches in all inclusive ways to diverse challenges such as urban heating and retrofitting Richly illustrated with case studies from the city to the household this book critically examines just transitions to achieve sustainable societies in the future New Narratives of Disability Sara E. Green, Donileen R. Loseke, 2019-11-25 This volume seeks to answer the call for richer more diverse understandings of disability through questions about narrative frameworks in disability research Narrative is a omnipresent meaning producing communication form in social life that is both cultural and personal Qualitative Methods for Practice Research Jeffrey Longhofer, Jerry

Floersch, Janet Hoy, 2013 Qualitative methods have become increasingly popular among researchers and while many comprehensive textbooks describe the standard techniques and philosophical assumptions it is often assumed that practitioners are consumers of research and not producers This innovative book describes how qualitative methods can be used to investigate the in vivo use of theory in social work practice It offers not just a comprehensive overview of methods but a concise accessible guide focused on how to study and explicate application of theory and the creative tension that inevitably exists between theory and practice Theory to practice gaps are indispensable conditions for conducting engaged scholarship which in turn promotes collaboration between researchers and practitioners in addressing practice related problems in real world settings Engaged scholarship and critical realist assumptions are applied to three case studies that combine research questions with data collection techniques and analytic strategies Thematic grounded theory and narrative research techniques are all illustrated including original quick start instructions for using ATLAS ti software Institutional ethnography is also presented as a method that is particularly useful for social work practice settings By generating knowledge of practice in open and natural systems qualitative methods can be used to examine how practice is experienced and how interventions may be understood and transformed This cutting edge pocket guide will equip practitioner scholars with the foundation for conducting research that makes a difference Primary Teachers, Inspection and the Silencing of the Ethic of Care James Reid, 2018-09-17 This book offers a unique and critical explication of teachers understanding and experience of care during a period of regulatory scrutiny and notice to improve Written following research in a primary school in the north of England it draws on the findings of an institutional ethnography to reveal the mediation of the teachers everyday work
