Mapping The Total Value Stream Mapping The Total Value Stream:

Mapping the Total Value Stream Mark A. Nash, Sheila R. Poling, 2011-03-23 Mapping the Total Value Stream defines and elaborates on the concepts of value stream mapping VSM for both production and transactional processes This book reshapes and extends the lessons originally put forward in a number of pioneering works including the popular Value Stream Management for the Lean Office It reinforces fundamental concepts and theoretical models with real world applications and complete examples of the value stream mapping technique To educate VSM mappers on the specific mechanics of the technique the text provides in depth explanations for commonly encountered situations The authors also provide a more complete perspective on the concept of availability While they discuss availability of equipment in transactional processes they extend the concept by elaborating on availability as it applies to employees The calculation of process lead time for work queues is taken to an advanced level not only is the calculation of this lead time explained but the text also covers the very real possibility of having more work in the queue than available time While previous books have focused on only production process VSM or transactional process VSM this work meets the real needs of both manufacturers and service sector organizations by dealing with both types It goes beyond explaining each scenario to teach readers what techniques are commonly applicable to both and also explains areas of difference so that mappers will be able to readily adapt to whatever unique situations present themselves

Lean Business Systems and Beyond Tomasz Koch, 2008-01-26 Lean Manufacturing has proved to be one of the most successful and most powerful production business systems over the last decades Its application enabled many companies to make a big leap towards better utilization of resources and thus provide better service to the customers through faster response higher quality and lowered costs Lean is often described as eyes for flow and eyes for muda philosophy It simply means that value is created only when all the resources flow through the system If the flow is stopped no value but only costs and time are added which is muda Jap waste Since the philosophy was born at the Toyota many solutions were tailored for the high volume environment But in turbulent fast changing market environment and progressing globalization customers tend to require more customization lower volumes and higher variety at much less cost and of better quality This calls for adaptation of existing lean techniques and exploration of the new waste free solutions that go far beyond manufacturing This book brings together the opinions of a number of leading academics and researchers from around the world responding to those emerging needs They tried to find answer to the question how to move forward from Spaghetti World of supply production distribution sales administration product development logistics accounting etc Through individual chapters in this book authors present their views approaches concepts and developed tools The reader will learn the key issues currently being addressed in production management research and practice throughout the world

Value Stream Management Don Tapping,2002-05-06 The Value Stream Management System simplifies the planning process for lean implementation ensuring quick deployment and greater success It links the metrics and reporting required by management with the lean tools needed on the manufacturing floor The central feature of this illustrative and engaging book is the value stream management storyboard a tool representing an eight step process for lean implementation The storyboard brings together people tools metrics and reporting into one visual document The authors stress the importance of reaching beyond single point kaizens to ensure a sustainable lean implementation process Many people use the value stream map as an individual tool but not within the context of a proven overall system Value Stream Management Eight Steps to Planning Mapping and Sustaining Lean Improvements shows you how to use mapping as part of a complete system for lean implementation The final outcome of Value Stream Management is the creation of a complete visual plan for lean transformation and the mastery of the skills required to implement that plan Instead of just using Toyota Production System Tools the authors encourage you to create your own lean production system Value Stream Management will help you to complete your process and sustain it Along with this book you receive downloadable resources containing a lean assessment tool a storyboard template useful charts a team charter forms reports and worksheets

Innovation, Strategy, and Transformation Frameworks for the Modern Enterprise Correia, Anacleto,Agua, Pedro B.,2023-10-11 Many organizations struggle to advance their businesses due to a lack of knowledge of innovative strategies and ways to transform their business to remain relevant Innovation Strategy and Transformation Frameworks for the Modern Enterprise is a comprehensive guide that equips organizations with the necessary tools to thrive in today's complex and ever-changing business landscape. This book explores a wide range of frameworks and their applications, providing practical insights and theoretical discussions to facilitate successful innovation, strategic planning, and digital transformation. The book begins by introducing the concept of frameworks in contemporary businesses. It emphasizes their importance as organized and methodical techniques for solving difficulties, managing processes, and making informed decisions based on accurate information. These frameworks cover various domains, including enterprise architecture, IT service management, business process management, project management, IT governance, agile methodologies, and innovation. By incorporating these frameworks, organizations can establish a strong foundation and adapt effectively to the rapidly evolving business environment. Designed for a wide range of readers, including educators, policymakers, researchers, consultants, IT professionals, and students, this book serves as an invaluable resource for those seeking to harness the power of frameworks to drive innovation, implement effective strategies, and navigate the complexities of digital transformation in today's fast-paced business environment. It provides a comprehensive understanding of the various frameworks, their implementations, and their potential to shape the future of business, government, and academia.

Visualising Business Transformation Jonathan Whelan, Stephen Whitla, 2020-01-24

Business transformation typically involves a wide range of visualisation techniques, from the templates and diagrams used by managers to make better strategic choices to the experience maps used by designers to understand customer needs, the technical models used by architects to propose possible solutions, and the pictorial representations used by change managers to engage stakeholder groups in dialogue. Up until now, these approaches have always been dealt with in isolation in the literature as well as in practice. This is surprising because, although they can look very different and tend to be produced by distinct groups of people, they are all modelling different aspects of the same thing. Visualising Business Transformation draws them together for the first time into a coherent whole so that readers from any background can expand their repertoire and understand the context and rationale for each technique across the transformation lifecycle. The book will appeal to a broad spectrum of readers involved in change, whether that is by creating change models themselves (strategists, architects, designers, engineers, business analysts, developers, illustrators, graphic facilitators, etc.), interpreting and using them (sponsors, business change managers, portfolio programme project managers, communicators, change champions, etc.), or supporting those involved in change indirectly (trainers, coaches, mentors, higher education establishments, and professional training facilities).
