Marginal Gains Monetary Transactions In Atlantic Africa Lewis Henry Morgan Lecture Series:

Marginal Gains Jane I. Guyer, 2004-03 In America almost all the money in circulation passes through financial institutions every day But in Nigeria's cash and carry system 90 percent of the currency never comes back to a bank after it's issued What happens when two such radically different economies meet and mingle as they have for centuries in Atlantic Africa The answer is a rich diversity of economic practices responsive to both local and global circumstances In Marginal Gains Jane I. Guyer explores and explains these often bewildering practices including trade with coastal capitalism and across indigenous currency zones and within the modern popular economy Drawing on a wide range of evidence Guyer demonstrates that the region shares a coherent if loosely knit commercial culture She shows how that culture actually works in daily practice addressing both its differing scales of value and the many settings in which it operates from crisis conditions to ordinary household budgets The result is a landmark study that reveals not just how popular economic systems work in Africa but possibly elsewhere in the Third World

Sovereignty in Exile Alice Wilson, 2016-11-07 Sovereignty in Exile explores sovereignty and state power through the case of a liberation movement that set out to make itself into a state The Sahrawi Arab Democratic Republic SADR was founded by the Polisario Front in the wake of Spain's abandonment of its former colony the disputed Western Sahara Morocco laid claim to the same territory and the conflict has locked Polisario and Morocco in a political stalemate that has lasted forty years Complicating the situation is the fact that Polisario conducts its day to day operations in refugee camps near Tindouf in Algeria which house most of the Sahrawi exile community SADR a partially recognized state and Polisario Western Sahara's liberation movement together form an unusual governing authority originally premised on the dismantling of a perceived threat to national Sahrawi unity tribes Drawing on unprecedented long term research gained by living with Sahrawi refugee families Alice Wilson examines how tribal social relations are undermined recycled and have reemerged as the refugee community negotiates governance resolves disputes manages social inequalities and improvises alternatives to taxation Wilson trains an ethnographic lens on the creation of administrative categories legal reforms aid distribution marriage practices local markets and contested elections within the camps Tracing social political and economic changes among Sahrawi refugees Sovereignty in Exile reveals the dynamics of a postcolonial liberation movement that has endured for decades in the deserts of North Africa while trying to bring about the revolutionary transformation of a society which identifies with a Bedouin past

Democracy and Prebendalism in Nigeria W. Adebawale, 2013-02-21 Richard Joseph's seminal 1987 book Democracy and Prebendal Politics in Nigeria represented a watershed moment in the understanding of the political dynamics of Nigeria This groundbreaking collection brings together scholars from across disciplines to assess the significance of Joseph's work and the current state of Nigerian politics

The Gambia-Senegal Border Mariama Khan, 2019-05-22 This book interrogates the validity of longstanding claims that Gambians and Senegalese are one people in two countries and explores how that claim intersects with the politics and development needs of the two countries Half a century after independence proponents of Senegambian unification continue to campaign on the basis of the longstanding social cultural and religious ties between Africa s smallest country The Gambia and Senegal the much larger country which almost entirely encircles it The border between the two former British and French colonies remains one of the starkest examples of colonial geographical bartering and it continues to serve a dual function as a bridge and a barrier in the social political and economic relations of the two countries The book investigates how the two states are constantly pulled between impulses of cooperation and de escalation and a competitive intimacy that disregards kinship ties and re activates tensions In particular the book shows how these interstate dynamics play out across the border itself where indigenous ideas of relatedness are reflected in the cross border transport and trade sectors and in the religious networks that straddle the two countries This book s skilful exploration of intersecting macro level and micro level relations in the Senegambia region will be of interest to scholars of African politics regional studies international development and border studies African Studies Review ,2004 The Fluvial Imagination Colin Hoag,2022-11-08 Landlocked and surrounded by South Africa on all sides the mountain kingdom of Lesotho became the world s first water exporting country when it signed a 1986 treaty with its powerful neighbor An elaborate network of dams and tunnels now carries water to Johannesburg the subcontinent s water stressed economic epicenter Hopes that proceeds from water sales could improve Lesotho s fortunes however have clashed with fears that soil erosion from overgrazing livestock could fill its reservoirs with sediment In this wide ranging and deeply researched book Colin Hoag shows how producing water commodities incites a fluvial imagination a sense for how water flows As we enter our planet s water export era Lesotho exposes the possibilities and perils ahead Colin Hoag s keen ethnographic eye shows how the Basotho s beloved pula rain was transformed into exportable and commodified water demonstrating how dams are entangled with a host of thorny social and political issues James Ferguson author of Give a Man a Fish Reflections on the New Politics of Distribution A rich account of the ecological political and economic contradictions produced through Lesotho s water export economy The work is engaging and well written based on long term fieldwork in Lesotho s grazing communities where lives and livelihoods are bound by the state s management of water Laura A Ogden author of Swamplife People Gators and Mangroves Entangled in the Everglades A beautifully written and thoroughly interdisciplinary book that shows why and how it is necessary to engage histories of racialization and commoditization in scientific practice on the one hand and natural scientific practices in the social sciences on the other In describing the ongoing histories and infrastructures that make water and empire durable forces Hoag s work is a wonderful and timely contribution Nikhil Anand author of Hydraulic City Water and the Infrastructures of Citizenship in Mumbai Jane Guyer's Marginal Gains Peter Geschiere,2007
