Finding the God Zone Jana Alcorn, 2011-07-28 Over a period of four short years Jana Alcorn's step daughter and husband died as well as three other loved ones What do you do when your hopes and dreams have mercilessly disappeared What do you do when life deals you one successive deadly blow after another How do you cope when you have to stop and bury your loved ones while hacking your way through a devastating personal wilderness Hope is the Velcro of faith Author Jana Alcorn opens her heart and the Scriptures to share that nothing is too difficult for God hope and dreams can be restored Life can be beautiful again You may be facing Death yours or a loved one Financial ruin Health problems Family challenges Unemployment Finding the God Zone provides hope in the midst of the chaos Real life stories of lost expectation and hope restored are combined with biblical principles The companion Study Guide Journal and Scripture Index provide resources that help you delve deeply into life's twists and turns with prayerful reflection enlightening revelation

The Godzone Connection Mark McKay, 2018-05-06 Can you really disappear without a trace Phoebe Fraser is an English woman working at a private bank in Tokyo When she steals 10 million from a client's account and then disappears Nick and Mariko Severance are brought in as private investigators to track her down It looks like a simple case of greed until the body of someone close to Phoebe washes up on a beach in Tokyo Bay

Murder becomes linked with theft and Phoebe is the main suspect One way or another she has to be found The search takes Nick halfway around the world to New Zealand where he unravels a story involving insider dealing love and betrayal and ultimate revenge But he isn't the only one searching Certain interested parties also want to find Phoebe and for reasons of their own silence her forever It's really just a question of who gets to her first

Beyond Hostile Islands Daniel McKay, 2024-04-02 WINNER JAVIER COY BIENNIAL RESEARCH AWARD BEST MONOGRAPH Offers a fascinating window into how the fraught politics of apology in the East Asian region have been figured in anglophone literary fiction The Pacific War 1941 1945 was fought across the world's largest ocean and left a lasting imprint on anglophone literary history However studies of that imprint or of individual authors have focused on American literature without drawing connections to parallel traditions elsewhere Beyond Hostile Islands contributes to ongoing efforts by Australasian scholars to place their national cultures in conversation with those of the United States particularly regarding studies of the ideologies that legitimize warfare Consecutively the book examines five of the most significant historical and thematic areas associated with the war island combat economic competition internment imprisonment and the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki Throughout the central issue pivots around the question of how or whether at all New Zealand fiction writing differs from that of the United States Can a sense of islandness the tyranny of distance Mori cultural heritage or the political legacies of the nuclear free movement provide grounds for distinctive authorial insights As an opening gambit Beyond Hostile Islands puts forward the term ideological coproduction to describe how a territorially and demographically more minor national culture may accede to the essentials of a given ideology while differing in aspects that reflect historical and provincial dimensions that are important to it Appropriately the literary texts under examination are set in various locales including Japan the Solomon Islands New Zealand New Mexico Ontario and the Marshall Islands The book concludes in a deliberately open ended pose with the full expectation that literary writing on the Pacific War will grow in range and richness aided by the growth of Pacific Studies as a research area

Peter Jackson Alfio Leotta, 2015-12-17 Peter Jackson is one of the most acclaimed and influential contemporary film makers This is the first book to combine the examination of Jackson's career with an in depth critical analysis of his films thus providing readers with the most comprehensive study of the New Zealand film maker's body of work The first section of the book concentrates on Jackson's biography surveying the evolution of his career from the director of cult slapstick movies such as Meet the Feebles 1989 and Braindead 1992 to an entrepreneur responsible for the foundation of companies such as Wingnut Films and Weta Workshop and finally to producer and director of mega blockbuster projects such as The Lord of the Rings 2001 2003 and The Hobbit 2012 2013 The book further examines Jackson's work at the level of production reception and textuality along with key collaborative relationships and significant themes associated with Jackson's films The examination of Peter Jackson's work and career ties into significant academic debates including the relationship between national cinema and global

Hollywood the global dispersal of film production the relationship between film authorship and industrial modes of production the impact of the creative industries on the construction of national identity and new developments in film technology

Southern Screens: Cinema, Culture and the Global South Antonio Traverso, 2018-05-16 Southern Screens Cinema culture and the global South adopts a transversal south south approach to the study of screen culture across national and cultural territories It examines the conditions by which screen culture participates in the generation sharing and circulation of new knowledge that is both southern and about the global South The contributors all of them residents of the world s southernmost nations examine new and traditional media that manifests an affinity with southern cultural imaginaries and territories identifiable through the sociological category of Global South Some of their chapters engage in analysis linked to specific national contexts others follow comparative approaches to screen culture across national regional and socio historical borders Sketching a new tapestry of references to other areas of southern social science and cultural theory Southern Screens traces a critical genealogy that here finds a productive place within an emerging comparative discussion of the screen cultures of the Global South This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Arts South North Cultural and Media Studies

Religion and the State Scott A. Merriman, 2009-07-14 This timely and authoritative resource combines both topical and country by country coverage to help readers understand the coexistence of church and state in nations around the world today At a time when faith based groups have become more politically active in the United States and with religious conflicts at the epicenter of many of the world s most dangerous hotspots Religion and the State An International Analysis of Roles and Relationships could not be more welcomed or timely Country by country faith by faith it unravels the historic underpinnings and long range effects of the relationship between religious principles and the operations of government in its many guises worldwide The work combines topical essays on significant developments in the confluence of religion and law throughout the world with short descriptions of each countries current treatment of religion Readers can investigate specific nations compare situations across nations and explore key issues in the pervasive often controversial relationship between religion and government

Posthuman Gothic Anya Heise-von der Lippe, 2017-11-01 Posthuman Gothic is an edited collection of thirteen chapters and offers a structured dialogical contribution to the discussion of the posthuman Gothic Contributors explore the various ways in which posthuman thought intersects with Gothic textuality and mediality The texts and media under discussion from I am Legend to In the Flesh and from Star Trek to The Truman Show transgress the boundaries of genre moving beyond the traditional scope of the Gothic These texts the contributors argue destabilise ideas of the human in a number of ways By confronting humanity and its Others they introduce new perspectives on what we traditionally perceive as human Drawing on key texts of both Gothic and posthumanist theory the contributors explore such varied themes as posthuman vampire and zombie narratives genetically modified posthumans the posthuman in video games film and TV the posthuman as a return to nature the posthuman s

relation to classic monster narratives and posthuman biohorror and theories of prometheanism and accelerationism In its entirety the volume offers a first attempt at addressing the various intersections of the posthuman and the Gothic in contemporary literature and media

Optimism and the Best Possible World Justin J. Daeley, 2025-03-07 This volume presents original essays on the ideas of philosophical optimism and the best possible world It highlights the historical and philosophical nuances of an idea that remains under treated within the literature despite its long and influential history Optimism broadly the thesis that God does the best or that this is the best possible world is often associated with the philosophy of Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz However there exists a rich tradition of philosophical optimism not only after Leibniz but before him as well The chapters in this volume address the philosophical nuances of optimism within the ancient medieval enlightenment modern and contemporary eras They cover a variety of thinkers ranging from Plato Aquinas Rousseau Voltaire Jonathan Edwards the new optimists of 19th century France and the non theistic optimists of the 20th century Optimism and the Best Possible World will be of interest to scholars and advanced students working in philosophy of religion history of philosophy religious history and intellectual history

Fashion and Feeling Roberto Filippello, Ilya Parkins, 2023-05-16 Fashion and Feeling The Affective Politics of Dress explores the complex nexus of fashion and the feeling body from a variety of critical perspectives across fashion studies anthropology sociology design practice and media studies It asks such questions as What does fashion look and feel like in an age dominated by amplified anxiety isolation depression and precariousness How are feelings woven into clothing and mobilized through fashion practices in ways that might sustain living with a sense of ongoing crisis Does fashion have the potential to help us reimagine new lifeworlds which might be reinvigorating In other words how is fashion engaging with the bad the good and the ambivalent feelings associated with our personal and collective histories with our troubled political present and with our imagined future Despite such diverse and scattered contributions the potentialities of feeling for the study of fashion are still largely neglected This edited volume seeks to tease out possible avenues of investigation of the clothed body and its representations through the lens of feeling

Docufictions Gary D. Rhodes, John Parris Springer, 2014-10-01 Through most of the 20th century the distinction between the fictional narrative film and the documentary was vigorously maintained The documentary tradition developed side by side with but in the shadow of the more commercially successful feature film In the latter part of the century however the two forms merged on occasion and mockumentaries fictional works in a documentary format and docudramas reality based works in a fictional format became part of the film and television landscape The 18 essays here examine the relationships between narrative fiction films and documentary filmmaking focusing on how each influenced the other and how the two were merged in such diverse films and shows as Citizen Kane M A S H This Is Spinal Tap and Destination Moon Topics include the docudrama in early cinema the industrial film as faux documentary the fear evoked in 1950s science fiction films the selling of reality in mockumentaries and reality television and documentary forms The essays provide a foundation for significant rethinking of film history and criticism offering the first significant discussion of two emerging and increasingly important genres

Examined in this study are twentieth and twenty first century autobiographies and memoirs by major New Zealand women writers Brought together for the first time in a single study texts by Sylvia Ashton Warner Janet Frame Lauris Edmond Fiona Kidman Barbara Anderson Ruth Park and Ruth Dallas are analysed with the aid of spatial concepts that probe unexplored aspects of their life narratives Drawing on recent and revised concepts of place and space in cultural geography philosophy and sociology the book acknowledges the link between identities and locations in a non essentialist way by pinpointing the various forms of inhabiting and being in space It refutes the idea of autobiographies as pure self referential texts and shows how these works deploy their own horizon of reference

Valérie Baisnée is currently a Senior Lecturer in English at the University of Paris Sud She holds a PhD in English from the University of Auckland New Zealand Her research interests include the personal writings and poetry of twentieth century women with a particular focus on New Zealand women writers She has contributed to several published books and journals on women's autobiographies and diaries and she is the author of Gendered Resistance The Autobiographies of Simone de Beauvoir Maya Angelou Janet Frame and Marguerite Duras 1997

The Empire Writes Back Bill Ashcroft, Gareth Griffiths, Helen Tiffin, 2003-12-16

The experience of colonization and the challenges of a post colonial world have produced an explosion of new writing in English This diverse and powerful body of literature has established a specific practice of post colonial writing in cultures as various as India Australia the West Indies and Canada and has challenged both the traditional canon and dominant ideas of literature and culture The Empire Writes Back was the first major theoretical account of a wide range of post colonial texts and their relation to the larger issues of post colonial culture and remains one of the most significant works published in this field The authors three leading figures in post colonial studies open up debates about the interrelationships of post colonial literatures investigate the powerful forces acting on language in the post colonial text and show how these texts constitute a radical critique of Eurocentric notions of literature and language This book is brilliant not only for its incisive analysis but for its accessibility for readers new to the field Now with an additional chapter and an updated bibliography The Empire Writes Back is essential for contemporary post colonial studies
