Graphs Maps Trees Abstract Models For Literary History:

Graphs, Maps, Trees Franco Moretti, 2007-09-17 In this groundbreaking book Franco Moretti argues that literature scholars should stop reading books and start counting graphing and mapping them instead In place of the traditionally selective literary canon of a few hundred texts Moretti offers charts maps and time lines developing the idea of distant reading into a full blown experiment in literary historiography in which the canon disappears into the larger literary system Charting entire genres the epistolary the gothic and the historical novel as well as the literary output of countries such as Japan Italy Spain and Nigeria he shows how literary history looks significantly different from what is commonly supposed and how the concept of aesthetic form can be radically redefined Graphs, Maps, Trees Franco Moretti, 2007 Reading

Graphs, Maps, and Trees Jonathan Goodwin, John Holbo, 2011-01-14 Franco Moretti's Graphs Maps Trees Abstract Models for Literary History is one of the most provocative recent works of literary history The present volume collects generalist and specialist academic and nonacademic responses by statisticians philosophers historians literary scholars and others And Moretti's responses to these responses Literary History Anders Pettersson, Gunilla Lindberg-Wada, Margareta Petersson, Stefan Helgesson, 2006 Literary History Towards a Global Perspective is a research project funded by the Swedish Research Council Vetenskapsr det Initiated in 1996 and launched in 1999 it aims at finding suitable methods and approaches for studying and analysing literature globally emphasizing the comparative and intercultural aspect Even though we nowadays have fast and easy access to any kind of information on literature and literary history we encounter more than ever the difficulty of finding a credible overall perspective on world literary history Until today literary cultures and traditions have usually been studied separately each field using its own principles and methods Even the conceptual basis itself varies from section to section and the genre concepts employed are not mutually compatible As a consequence it is very difficult if not impossible for the interested layperson as well as for the professional student to gain a clear and fair perspective both on the literary traditions of other peoples and on one's own traditions The project can be considered as a contribution to gradually removing this problem and helping to gain a better understanding of literature and literary history by means of a concerted empirical research and deeper conceptual reflection The contributions to the four volumes are written in English by specialists from a large number of disciplines primarily from the fields of comparative literature Oriental studies and African studies in Sweden All of the literary texts discussed in the articles are in the original language Each one of the four volumes is devoted to a special research topic Literary History: Towards a Global Perspective Anders Pettersson, Gunilla Lindberg-Wada, Margareta Petersson, Stefan Helgesson, 2011-12-22 Literary History Towards a Global Perspective is a research project funded by the Swedish Research Council Vetenskapsr det Initiated in 1996 and launched in 1999 it aims at finding suitable methods and approaches for studying and analysing literature globally emphasizing the comparative and intercultural aspect Even though we nowadays have fast and easy access to any kind of information on literature and literary history we encounter more than ever the difficulty of finding a credible overall perspective on world literary history Until today literary cultures and traditions have usually been studied separately each field using its own principles and methods Even the conceptual basis itself varies from section to section and the genre concepts employed are not mutually compatible As a consequence it is very difficult if not impossible for the interested layperson as well as for the professional student to gain a clear and fair perspective both on the literary traditions of other peoples and on one's own traditions The project can be considered as a contribution to gradually removing this problem and helping to gain a better understanding of literature and literary history by means of a concerted empirical research and deeper conceptual reflection The contributions to the four volumes are written in English by specialists from a large number of disciplines primarily from the fields of comparative literature Oriental studies and African studies in Sweden All of the literary texts discussed in the articles are in the original language Each one of the four volumes is devoted to a special research topic

In Translation □ Reflections, Refractions, Transformations Paul St-Pierre, Prafulla C. Kar, 2007-05-16 With contributions by researchers from India Europe North America and the Caribbean In Translation Reflections refractions transformations touches on questions of method and on topics including copyright cultural hybridity globalization identity construction and minority languages which are important for the disciplinary development of translation studies but also of interest to other fields as well most notably comparative literature cultural studies and world literature The volume provides a forum for new voices to be heard alongside those of well established scholars and for current concerns to express themselves often focusing on practices in areas of the world other than Europe or North America which have until now tended to dominate the field Acknowledging difference and celebrating it the contributions conceive of translation as a process which reconstitutes and transforms which brings renewal and growth an interaction in a new context a new reading a new writing

Cartographies of Culture Damian Walford Davies, 2012-06-15 Cartographies of Culture New Geographies of Welsh Writing in English offers a pioneering new examination of the links between maps and imaginative writing Concerned to draw literary studies and geography into a fruitful dialogue the book offers a genuinely interdisciplinary study of literary texts in relation to the spatialities of culture Taking the anglophone literature of Wales as its main data field the book offers a boldly imaginative and stringently theorised analysis of five literary maps What emerges is nothing less than a new way of reading literature through and as maps

Software Takes Command Lev Manovich, 2013-07-04 Offers the first look at the aesthetics of contemporary design from the theoretical perspectives of media theory and software studies

All the Difference in the World Natalie Melas, 2007 This book is about culture and comparison Starting with the history of the discipline of comparative literature and its forgotten relation to the positivist comparative method it inquires into the idea of comparison in a postcolonial world Comparison was Eurocentric by exclusion when it applied only to European literature and Eurocentric by discrimination when it adapted evolutionary models to place European literature at the forefront of human development

This book argues that inclusiveness is not a sufficient response to postcolonial and multiculturalist challenges because it leaves the basis of equivalence unquestioned. The point is not simply to bring more objects under comparison but rather to examine the process of comparison. The book offers a new approach to the either/or of relativism and universalism in which comparison is either impossible or assimilatory by focusing instead on various forms of incommensurability: comparisons in which there is a ground for comparison but no basis for equivalence. Each chapter develops a particular form of such cultural comparison from readings of important novelists (Joseph Conrad, Simone Schwartz-Bart), poets (Aimé Césaire, Derek Walcott) and theorists (Édouard Glissant, Jean-Luc Nancy). The gothic novel in Ireland, c. 1760–1829 Christina Morin, 2018-05-11. This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY-NC-ND open access license. The gothic novel in Ireland c. 1760–1829 offers a compelling account of the development of gothic literature in late eighteenth and early nineteenth century Ireland. Countering traditional scholarly views of the rise of the gothic novel on the one hand and on the other Irish Romantic literature, this study persuasively re-integrates a body of now overlooked works into the history of the literary gothic as it emerged across Ireland, Britain and Europe between 1760 and 1829. Its twinned quantitative and qualitative analysis of neglected Irish texts produces a new formal, generic and ideological map of gothic literary production in this period, persuasively positioning Irish works and authors at the centre of a new critical paradigm with which to understand both Irish Romantic and gothic literary production.
