Regenerative agroubanism R. France,2023-08-14 The core activities of urban agriculture are involved with producing processing marketing distributing and consuming food Urban agriculture also provides services and outcomes through transforming neglected or damaged landscapes lives and livelihoods This book focuses on the so called ancillary benefits of urban agriculture in terms of healing economies connections aesthetics heritage and sites and societies in short what might be referred to in an holistic sense as the emerging paradigm of agroubanism More than seventy case studies from around the world are reviewed through the social ecological lens of regenerative landscape design. Many of these cases have never before been discussed in the literature. Topics examined include entrepreneurship, gastro tourism, food literacy, foodscaping, heritage and social and societal wellbeing. The methodological approach undertaken is layered narrative scholarship based on the phenomenology of experiencing landscapes and is facilitated through a linked website containing photo essays documenting the site visits.

Robert L. France is a world renowned scientist in the Faculty of Agriculture at Dalhousie University where he teaches courses on urban agriculture, ecohydrology, watershed management, conservation biology and environmental restoration.
